DR. CLYDE M. CRIST IS PROMOTED IN CHURCH WORK

Becomes Superintendent of District; Dr. Harry Rasmus Is Successor

Dr. Clyde Monroe Crist today is receiving the congratulations of his friends as the new superintendent of the San Diego District for the Methodist church.

Dr. Harry I. Rasmus, present superintendent of that district, is now making plans to assume the pastorate of the First Methodist church of Glendale.

Rev. H. C. Mullen, pastor of the Methodist church at Cucamonga, in the near future will take charge of the Pacific Avenue Community Methodist church.

These appointments were made yesterday afternoon at the annual conference of pastors representing churches in the south half of California held at Fresno.

Rev. Carl C. Seitter, of 219 South Cedar avenue, who has had charge of the work of religious education at the First Methodist church of Glendale will exchange places with Rev. Harry I. Rasmus, Jr., pastor of the Methodist church at La Mesa.

Dr. J. Hunter Brink has been reappointed pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church and Rev. J. C. Livingston has been reappointed pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church.

Dr. L. Y. Davis of Pasadena was reappointed superintendent of the Pasadena district, which includes Glendale.

Dr. Harry I. Rasmus, who will have charge of the First Methodist church, as soon as he has moved to Glendale, has been superintendent of the San Diego District for the past six years. This is the maximum time allowed under the regulations of the church. Previously he was pastor of the First Methodist church of Long Beach. His son, Rev. Harry I. Rasmus, Jr., will be the junior pastor of the local church.

Deserved Promotion
Dr. Crist's appointment to the superintendency of the San Diego district comes as a promotion in recognition of his excellent record both as pastor of the Lake Avenue Methodist church, Pasadena, and the First Methodist church of Glendale.

RICHARDSON CLUB PLANS CAMPAIGN

Democratic and Prohibition
Voters Flock to Support
Republican Nominee

Plans for furthering the candidacy of Friend W. Richardson, Republican candidate for governor, were discussed at a meeting of the Richardson-for-Governor club held last night in the auditorium of the Glendale Union high school, with Judge F. H. Lowe, president of the organization, presiding.

During the meeting the platforms of the two candidates for governor were compared and it was agreed that a large number of Democrats are deserting the "wine and beer" supporter for Richardson, whose record has always been "dry."

It is also pointed out that the Southern California conference of the Methodist church, in session at Fresno, has adopted resolutions condemning the Democratic nominee and calling upon the people of the state to "do their utmost to defeat him." The same resolutions urge support of Friend W. Richardson.

Seek to Secure Speaker
The Glendale Richardson-for-Governor club is making an effort to secure a prominent speaker to conduct a meeting in the city and to that end last night named J. C. Sherer and A. H. Davis to visit the Southern California headquarters of the Republican nominee and arrange for, if possible, some well known man to come here and talk at a public gathering.

Members of the local organization declared last night that they had come in contact with many registered Democrats and Prohibitionists who had declared their intention of voting for the Republican candidate for governor.

Judge Lowe, A. H. Davis, J. C. Sherer, R. S. Person and others cited facts and figures to show the mounting costs of state government; recalled the economy displayed by Richardson while state printer and later as state treasurer, and declared that his campaign of economy in state government is winning him many votes, irrespective of party affiliation.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Forced into the curb by three bandits armed with sawed-off shotguns, F. Caswell and his secretary, A. B. Sprague, were robbed of a payroll containing approximately $700 today at Sixteenth street and Moneta avenue.

LOWER INTERSTATE RATES
FOR EXPRESS ARE SOUGHT
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—Because operating conditions are considered more favorable here for express companies than in other zones, California, Oregon and Washington public service commissions will endeavor to secure lower interstate express rates at the interstate commerce commission hearing next month in Washington.

RADICAL LEADER'S CASE
PUT OVER UNTIL TOMORROW
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Oct. 17.—The preliminary hearing in the case of William Z. Foster, radical leader, and twenty-nine alleged communists who were rounded up after an alleged midnight meeting in the Michigan woods, was put over until tomorrow by agreement of counsel. Tomorrow the defendants will waive examination and be bound over for trial, the date of which will probably be November 27.

FORMER VENICE TREASURER
WILL SEEK PROBATION
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Attorneys for James T. Peasgood, Jr., former city treasurer of Venice, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement of city funds, were preparing to assist Peasgood in making his application for probation today. The amount Peasgood is charged with taking is $19,000. Peasgood is married and was held in high repute in the bay district, where he lived with his wife and little daughter.

CLUB SECTION IN OPENING MEETING

Shakespeare Session Proves of Interest; Mrs. Walter
Jones Is Hostess

The opening meeting of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. Walter Jones, 430 West Vine street, and opened with a short business session, during which reports were read. Mrs. Jones announced the Society Circles and Bazaar to be given by the club on November 18 and reminded the members that the section will have charge of the parcel post booth and also the dance in the evening. She asked that as many packages as possible be brought to the next meeting of the section on November 6.

Mrs. Chester Kling was appointed chairman of the hospitality committee, which includes Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, Mrs. W. E. Halstead and Mrs. William Hunter, to take charge of the meetings and arrange anything that comes up in a social way. A motion prevailed that the club members entertain the section alphabetically and Mrs. Emma Batz will be hostess at the meeting on November 6, when the study of "Romeo and Juliet" will be taken up.

Gives Short Talk
Mrs. M. M. Garrett, director of the section for the coming year, was introduced, and gave a short talk on "What Shakespeare Should Mean" and also the effect the reading of Shakespeare has on modern drama. She also gave an outline of the work to be taken up during the year. Mrs. Harry Bender of Los Angeles was introduced and gave a delightful reading of three scenes from the "Merchant of Venice." Mrs. J. A. Wright delighted the members with two piano selections, "The First Polonaise" (Chopin), and McDowell's "Tarantella." At the close of the program delicious refreshments were served.

Elks Hear Reports on State Gathering

At a regular meeting of the Glendale lodge of Elks, No. 1289, held last night at the local club house, report was made by Arthur Dillborn on the activities at the annual convention of the state association of Elks, which has just closed at Santa Monica.

Earl Patterson, chairman of the golf team of the Glendale lodge, which won the trophy at the convention tournament, told of the rules, methods and work governing the contest.

James Appfel reported on the bowling activities at the convention, at which one of the contests was won by the Glendale team.

Announcement was made of the opening dance of the club house Saturday night, October 21, and for which special plans are being made.

CORNER OF BRAND AND MAPLE SOLD TO SYNDICATE

Group of Glendale Men Pay
About $50,000 for Choice
Close-In Location

One of the biggest steps in the spirited realty activity of the early fall is the purchase of the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Maple street by a syndicate composed of E. C. Pendroy of the Pendroy Dry Goods company; D. J. Hanna, prominent Glendale resident and formerly lieutenant governor of Kansas; J. G. Huntley and W. E. Evans, prominent citizens, realtors and property owners. The reported consideration is about $50,000.

Announcement of the purchase was made this morning, but no statement made as to the use to which the property is to be put.

Large, Close-In Corner
The property is probably the largest close-in corner left intact, being 175 feet on Brand boulevard and 168 feet on Maple street.

Glendale men will await with interest announcement of plans for the use of the property, which is located on an intersection where there has been marked activity recently.

A drug store occupies the opposite corner while Mrs. Mary M. McEnany is now constructing a two-story business block on one of the other corners.

MERCHANTS SEEK TO BOOST TRADE

Members of Glendale Credit
Men's Association Work on New Plan Now

Methods of further increasing the buying of goods in Glendale were discussed at the meeting yesterday noon of the Glendale Credit Men's association. The possibility of holding another "dollar day," such as was held successfully last July, was discussed, as was also the suggestion of erecting signs at entrance points to the city, thus calling attention to the desirability of buying goods here.

President Owen C. Emery is to appoint a committee of three in the near future to look into the matter of erecting signs. Lyndol L. Young was the principal speaker at the meeting, speaking in favor of Proposition No. 24 on the November ballot. He claimed that disbarred attorneys are dispensing legal advice from offices of banks or trust companies after having been denied the right to practice in the courts.

The other side of the question is to come up at the next meeting, as is announced. G. H. Thomas, Glendale banker, is to arrange for a speaker to present the side that is opposed to the adoption of the proposition.

About forty-four were present at the meeting yesterday. P. E. Potter, of McCook, Nebraska, was the guest of W. P. Potter at the meeting.

Offer of Instruction In Art of Fencing

Dueling nowadays is confined largely to verbal combat. Challenging an enemy to get up before breakfast and stand around shivering while a couple of seconds wipe off the swords is somewhat passe. However, Douglas Fairbanks got a lot of fine exercise out of the duels in "The Three Musketeers," or whatever it is called, and Jack Hoyer of 317 East Lomita avenue says that anyone can do the same.

Mr. Hoyer is a member of Amateur Fencers' League of America. He is keenly interested in the art of fencing which he says provides one of the best forms of light exercise. He would like to see a fencing club formed in Glendale and says that he would be only too glad to teach its members what he knows about the sport. Mr. Hoyer suggested that all young men interested should get in touch with him at once.

Hunt Verdugo Hills and Get Fine Buck

It sounds very much like reminiscences of the early days to tell of four hunters journeying into the Verdugo Hills and returning home with a fine three-pointer buck, weighing 105 pounds.

But this is a modern tale with C. S. Steppeler of 404 Ivy street, H. H. Dobb and two of the Camargo brothers as chief actors. They journeyed out to the Verdugo Hills before sun-up last Saturday morning and returned home with a fine buck shot not very far north of the Dan Campbell home.

The only complicating circumstance of the hunt was the all four hunters fired at the deer so it isn't known which of the quartet was the successful shot.

He is survived by a widow who lives in San Fernando, a suburb of San Antonio. Lieutenant Ball was stationed at Kelly Field as a student officer, taking pursuit training when the accident occurred. He enlisted in the army March 6, 1916, from Oklahoma.

FOREIGN NATIONS ATTACK RULING FOR 'DRY' SHIPS
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Foreign nations today launched a vigorous attack upon Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty's ruling that liquor may not be brought into the territorial waters of the United States by foreign ships when representatives of foreign steamship lines went before Federal Judge Hand and asked for a permanent injunction against enforcement of the Daugherty dictum. The issue as outlined by former Judge Van Vleet, counsel for the several British steamship lines, is whether the mere presence of liquor in the sea stores of foreign vessels within the territorial waters of the United States comes within the restrictions of the eighteenth amendment of the American constitution and the prohibition enforcement act. The contention of the foreign ship owners is that they do not.

HERBERT WILSON, THREE OTHERS, IN JAIL BREAK

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Led by Herbert Wilson, millionaire robber, of Detroit and Chicago, convicted murderer of his pal, Herbert Cox, last spring in jail, and three other men made a successful jail break early this morning shortly after 7 a. m. by over-powering jail attaches and severely injuring one of them. The other men besides Wilson are said to be Adam Ward, a man whose name is said to be Spignolo, and who is known as "the mouse," and an unidentified man. After leaving the jail the men are said to have succeeded in taking a mail truck and disappeared toward the river in the east part of town. A dragnet was spread throughout the state immediately following the escape of the desperadoes and sheriffs in southern California were asked to be on the lookout for the men. It is believed they would hold up autoists and commandeer different automobiles to confuse posses. Henry E. Purrier, one of the guards, was beaten into unconsciousness by the prisoners with the butts of their guns and they took from him the keys to the front door of the jail. Unlocking the two steel-barred doors at the front entrance and leaving them open, Wilson and the three men with him dashed down Temple street to the postoffice where they forced a postoffice employee, who was coming to work, to give them his machine, and they fled with it. The men who escaped left the doors of the jail open so that the other prisoners could follow. Unable to lock the doors because the keys were gone, jail guards stood at the entrance with sawed-off shotguns to prevent a wholesale jail delivery.

FLAMES TOTALLY DESTROY GIANT ARMY DIRIGIBLE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 17.—One man was probably fatally injured and six others less seriously injured here this morning when fire totally destroyed the giant army dirigible C-2, en route on a trans-continental flight from California to Langley field, Virginia, just before it was scheduled to take to the air in an exhibition flight over San Antonio. Major John McD. Thompson, who suffered a broken left arm and internal injuries, is in a local hospital and his recovery is said to be doubtful. Sergeant Albrect, member of the crew, who was at first reported seriously injured, was found to be suffering only from a sprained ankle, later reports show. A revised list of the injured follows: Major, John McD. Thompson, broken left arm and internal injuries; Garcia Marran, newspaperman, fractured left leg; Ben Baynes, newspaperman, broken left arm; Sergeant A. B. Albrect, sprained ankle; Sergeant Harry F. Bills, broken right ankle; Captain Tolson M. Walker, fell ten feet, badly shaken up; Major H. A. Strauss, commander C-2, sprained ankle. All of the injured were rushed to hospitals in ambulances summoned from the city as soon as the conflagration became known and those suffering mere sprains were discharged after having their injuries treated. The more seriously injured remained at the hospitals, where shortly after 11 o'clock it was stated that they are resting well. The condition of Major Thompson is said to be serious, but hopes for his recovery are held out. Major Strauss, commander of the dirigible, gave out the following interview in regard to the accident: "We started out for the hangar with three balloon companies assisting with the handling of the ropes. A fifteen-mile gale was blowing 'cross hangar' at an angle which caught the nose of the ship, temporarily backing it slightly into the hangar again. A second start brought more than half the ship outside of the doors when a second gust of wind pulled loose two handling guy ropes and a third rope came out, taking a square of the envelope about ten feet across with it. Then we ordered every one to jump and run. Heat from the engines ignited the gas a few seconds after the men leaped to the ground."

H. W. BARROWS AND FAMILY EN ROUTE TO FAR EAST

Treasurer of Division for Seventh-day Adventists
Now In Glendale

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Barrows and two children of 25 Ningkuo Road, Shanghai, China, are guests for a few days at the Glendale Sanitarium. Mr. Barrows is treasurer of the Far Eastern Division of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination and he and his family are just concluding a six months' furlough in the United States.

Mr. Barrows has been connected with the Far Eastern division for over six years and he and his family arrived in San Francisco last May in time to attend the world conference of Seventh-day Adventists. They then went on east to New York and Massachusetts to visit relatives and are now spending several weeks on the Pacific coast preliminary to sailing from Vancouver the middle of November.

Large Territory
Mr. Barrows' duties as treasurer deal with the administration of what is known as the Far Eastern Division, which is 6,000 miles from north to south and 500 miles from east to west, and includes Japan, Korea, Manchuria, all of China, eastern Siberia, Tibet, Chinese Turkestan, Philippines, the Strait Settlements, Dutch East Indies, Siam and French Indo China. This territory represents a population of 600,000,000. China alone claiming 400,000,000. In considering these facts it is interesting to note that the Seventh-day Adventists first went to China in 1900. During the next two years since they have sent representatives into twenty-one language areas, have five training schools, five intermediate schools, 127 church schools and are now carrying out a program of calling for the establishment of dispensaries and small hospitals, and later the building of a sanitarium in Shanghai. They also maintain several publishing houses.

Displays Growth
Further figures given by Mr. Barrows show that in 1921 there were 5,034 students in the Seventh-day Adventists' institutions, while at the close of the year 1921 there were 10,000 members of the churches and 14,000 enrolled in the Sunday schools.

In the administration of the vast territory of the division the work is carried on by eleven unions and each union is divided into local missions, each mission representing a province.

In telling of his work Mr. Barrows speaks particularly of the various classes he comes in contact with. "There are all types from the cave dweller up," he says. "Conditions are bettering in China," he continues, "and there is a great future in view for the country."

Names Workers for Community Service

Preliminary to the meeting Friday afternoon of the Committee on Community Service, L. T. Rowley, chairman, announces the appointment of two committees, one for the formation of a permanent organization and another on plan and scope of the work. The committee on the permanent organization includes Dr. Jessie Russell, V. M. Hollister and C. E. Kimlin. Those appointed on the plan and scope of the work are Richardson D. White, A. R. Eastman, Jesse Smith, Mrs. M. B. Jones, T. D. Watson and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett. The meeting Friday afternoon will be held in the Chamber of Commerce hall at 4:30 o'clock and the committee members are asking for suggestions on a community service program.

Party From Glendale Visits Santa Barbara

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan and son, Eric, of 1125 South Central avenue and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Doggett and daughters of 326 West Garfield avenue spent the week-end at Ventura and Santa Barbara. Mr. Morgan officiated as High Priest for the Glendale chapter of Royal Arch Masons which conferred the Royal Arch degree at the meeting of the Ventura chapter on Saturday night. The party motored to Santa Barbara Sunday and visited the old mission there.

Legislative Section Meets on Wednesday

The members of the legislative section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. B. O. Holbrook is curator, will meet Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hutchins, 248 North Orange street, to complete plans for an open forum meeting to be held at Masonic Temple on October 31. This section is meeting once a week until after the November election.

MASS MEETING DEMANDS HIGH SCHOOL BOARD PROCEED WITH CONSTRUCTION NEW BUILDINGS

Residents In Northwestern Section of City
Point Out Bonds Are Sold and Urge
Work Be Started Immediately

At a mass meeting which followed a brief meeting of the West Glendale Improvement Association last night, action was taken as opposed to the opening and widening of Patterson avenue. A resolution was also adopted calling upon the Glendale Union high school board of trustees to take steps immediately for the construction of such buildings as required by the recent bond issue "without regard or reference to any further bond issues that may be contemplated."

The meeting last night held at the Columbus school, corner of Columbus and Doran, was one of the best attended since the forming of the association.

Upon the calling to order of the meeting of the association, the question of opening and widening Patterson avenue was considered. J. R. Grey spoke in favor of the project, declaring that part of the proposition had already been favored at a previous meeting. J. A. Trotter, A. L. Kneifer, George B. Montgomery, C. C. Shaw, W. Zeitz, Stella Goodman, E. W. Cooper, H. P. Sberall, E. C. Trimmer, B. F. Leslie, William W. Hunter.

In taking up the matters in regard to the high school bond issue, Mrs. Mitchell spoke in favor of the issue, declaring that no other city is growing as fast as Glendale.

"The board didn't look far enough ahead," he said. "I believe the issue should carry."

Present Figures
Ray L. Morrow, assistant city attorney gave some figures which he had compiled, showing the tremendous growth in the Glendale schools during the past few years. Of the twenty-six high schools in Los Angeles county, it was declared that Glendale ranks fourth in average attendance, and third in number of pupils per teacher. The maintenance cost per pupil in Glendale was declared to be $157.08 as compared with a cost of $239.41 in Los Angeles, and $253.51 in Pasadena.

Mr. Grey then spoke in favor of demanding that the high school should be built once from funds now available as a result of the last school bond election. He presented figures from the Journal of the National Educational association for October which showed that such a school was authorized May 2, 1922, the cost to be $685,000. A resolution was adopted in regard to the Patterson avenue project, and volunteers

Protest Action
It was decided to protest any action in regard to the Patterson avenue project, and volunteers

PAVEMENT IN BAD CONDITION, ARE COMPLAINTS

Eagle Rock City Clerk Will Get In Touch With Los Angeles at Once

Owing to the great number of complaints relative to the bad condition of the pavement on Glassell avenue from the southern city limits of Eagle Rock to Verdugo road, the city clerk of Eagle Rock has been instructed by the board of trustees to get into communication with the city of Los Angeles, so as to bring the matter to their attention to see if some immediate relief can be had.

It is claimed that the pavement is so bad that it is practically impassable in some places, and that motorists whenever possible avoid this stretch of pavement and take some other road to reach Eagle Rock, Glendale or Pasadena, much to the detriment of these three cities.

It is said that Los Angeles has in the past been very prompt in making street repairs under these conditions, and it is thought that if the matter is brought to their official attention they will take immediate steps to make the necessary repairs.

Realty Board and C. of C. Joint Meet

Many new ideas are expected to result from the meeting tonight, when the joint committees from the Eagle Rock realty board and the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce discuss plans for the publication of the booklet that is being sponsored by both of these organizations to advertise Eagle Rock to the world.

It is hoped that the meeting will bring both committees in perfect harmony and that all will pull together in getting out a booklet of this description that will be one of the most original and beautiful of its kind ever gotten out by any city in southern California.

BOND ISSUES TO BE VOTED UPON IN EAGLE ROCK

Other Important Matters Up at Board of Trustees Meeting Last Night

The board of trustees of the city of Eagle Rock at their meeting last night adopted resolutions numbered 220, 221, and 222, which refer in the order named to the $60,000 bond issue for additional water supply; $40,000 for increased fire protection and $25,000 for the lighting of the entire city.

This means that these important bond issues that have been discussed from time to time will now actually come up for a vote of the people to determine as to whether or not these proposed improvements shall be made and the necessary money to pay for them be raised by a bond issue.

The trustees also adopted ordinances numbered 199, 200 and 201. These refer in the order named to garbage removal; an amendment to the present fire zoning ordinance that will permit the erection of steel and glass gasoline stations in district No. 1, and making it necessary for the signers of petitions that seek to call upon the city engineer's office for street set-backs, opening and closing of streets, etc., to pay their pro rata for the necessary expense in advertising, printing and posting.

Want New Crossing

The city clerk was instructed by the trustees to communicate with the Los Angeles Railway company to see if they will not take the necessary steps to take away the curb on their right away on Central avenue and pave for about 150 feet from the south line of East Myrtle avenue to the south line of West Myrtle avenue, making it so that motorists can drive directly across the tracks on Central avenue at Myrtle avenue, eliminating the necessity of motorists driving on the wrong side of Central avenue for about 150 feet as they are now forced to do when they desire to proceed through Myrtle avenue across Central avenue.

Thomas A. Jordan, the city engineer made a report on the matter of the complaint about flood water backing up in the neighborhood of Delmar avenue and Park avenue. His report showed that a temporary improvement to relieve the situation would cost in the neighborhood of $3,000. This would necessitate either raising the curb and sidewalk or cut Sycamore avenue down to a lower level to allow the water proper drainage. After some discussion the matter was referred to the public works, streets and alleys committee.

Lots Shortened
Then Mr. Jordan presented map of tract No. 5649 which is a resubdivision of No. 4616, and it was adopted. This tract shortens the lots on this tract on Vine street and Townsend avenue above Hill avenue to a depth running from 121 to about 260 feet. These lots formerly extended in length up to the top of the hill.

Reynolds & Eberle, who had made application for a permit for an undertaking establishment at 116 North Castle avenue at the meeting of the board of trustees a week ago, had their application favorably acted upon, and the clerk was authorized to grant them the necessary permit upon payment of the required fees.

The City Attorneys' Association of Southern California presented a petition to the trustees asking them to go on record against propositions Nos. 10, 11 and 30 that came up on the ballot in November.

Against Propositions
These propositions are said to seek to place the granting of franchise of street railways, and motor bus lines operating within a municipality out of the hands of municipalities and place such power in the hands of the state railroad commission, and also refers to taxation of such municipal-owned public utilities.

The board acted favorably on the petition, and on record against the passage of these propositions.

There was also a petition from The League of California Municipalities in which they voiced objection to the same three propositions and also another proposition No. 27, which refers to increasing the number of signers required on any initiative measure from 8 to 15 per cent. The trustees took the same action on the first three as in the petition of the attorneys' association, but took no action on proposition No. 27.

The monthly bills were ordered paid, and this completed the business of the board, and they then adjourned.

SHOWERS OF GOLD FALL ON LONDON FROM TOURISTS

Some Hotels Kept Operating With Money Spent by Rich Americans

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.
LONDON.—England is engaged in the pleasant pastime of counting American money that will never get back to America.

The tourist season is over, and it is estimated by some experts that there is close to a half billion dollars of American money left in England as the weary tourists trek their homeward way.

The past season has been one of the best in the history of England, despite the fact that there have been constant cries of indignation because the Americans were spending most of their time in France and Germany, and despite protests that the tourists of this season were not "spenders." It is impossible to accurately judge the number of American tourists who have visited England this summer, but one authority estimates that between May and the end of September there were at least 5,000 American tourists in London every day.

Conservative Estimate
This number has fluctuated, and the estimate is a most conservative one. It is estimated that these tourists spent for hotel and living accommodations not less than a pound each, or practically $5 a day. This, too, is a most conservative estimate, for while there were many tourists who secured lodgings for less than $2 a night, there were many more who took the most expensive suites available in the most expensive hostels in London. In fact, there are several of the larger establishments that have been practically kept in business by their rich American clientele.

Besides the money spent for actual living expenses, there has been a great deal more spent in purchases from the English stores and shops. Scarcely an American came over here who did not return home with a fairly sized English wardrobe, and was heavily laden with gifts of all sorts.

The theatres and other places of amusement have garnered a great deal more American gold.

The taxi-cab drivers have waxed fat upon American fares and even faster than the most expensive servants of all classes can now afford to spend the winter on the Riviera, living on their tips from tourists.

One famous character, "Fleet Street Charlie," who opens taxi-cab doors for tourist visitors to the famous "Cheshire Cheese," is reported to have made close to $20 a day in American tips. "Fleet Street Charlie" denies this, but his earnings have been huge.

The steamship companies have derived at least 80 per cent of their summer revenue from Americans of all classes, from the wealthy who paid as high as $7,000 for a single passage to the more conservative travelers who came over this class and saved money.

All of this money will remain in Great Britain. It should help to swell the coffers of the income tax man, and probably America will get some of it back when Britain pays her war debt, but whatever America gets back will be taken back by England next summer, just as soon as the "sucker season" opens again.

Now has come the winter of discontent for those who live on tips in London. The American has gone.

THEATRES

The T. D. & L.

Another picture to parallel "Tolable David" may sound almost impossible, yet Richard Barthelmess has created just that in "The Bond Boy," his newest production now at the T. D. & L. theatre.

"The Bond Boy" has the Virginian hills locale, the people for characters, the old practice of bonding out children to masters until they reach twenty-one for theme. Dick Barthelmess is the boy son of an impoverished widow who, to save his mother from the poorhouse accepts indenture to a farmer and taskmaster.

The Glendale

"Remembrance" at the Glendale Theatre is a Rupert Hughes masterpiece and there are in it hundreds of the deft little touches that go to make a Rupert Hughes picture infinitely closer to real human beings than the average run of photoplays.

It is the story of Pop and his pampered family. The strain of incessant toiling to increase his income is too much for the father who finally collapses and for a long time is so seriously ill that his recovery is doubtful. But he does get well and for the first time finds his family considerate of his welfare.

GIVE SUGGESTION AS TO MAILING NEWSPAPERS

Postoffice Officials Tell of Ruling Which Covers That Service

According to officials in the Eagle Rock postoffice a great many people mail newspapers to friends back east, but evidently, due to lack of knowledge of the postal rates, do not attach the correct postage.

Patrons of the local postoffice have perhaps wondered why there is no receptacle provided to drop bulky newspapers, and that such packages must be handed in through the window to a clerk.

"We do not have a drop for people to mail newspapers because they very seldom attach the correct postage, and by handing them in the window to one of the clerks assures correct postage being attached, which means better service all around," stated one of the postal officials.

There is rather a peculiar ruling on the postage necessary for newspapers.

If the whole newspaper is mailed, the rate is one cent for each four ounces, but should just a portion of the same newspaper be mailed, the rate doubles, and only two ounces is allowed for a cent, taking the same rate as printed matter.

The same ruling applies to magazines, it is stated, so it can readily be seen that should a person desire to mail a copy of The News back home to friends, it is just as cheap to send the whole newspaper as only half of it.

W. Leroy Baine, Pacific coast traffic representative of the United Press associations, one of the largest news gathering agencies in the world, was a Glendale visitor today, attending to business in the interests of that organization and visiting old friends. Mr. Baine is widely known throughout the state as a prominent Mason and in San Francisco—his headquarters—is a moving spirit in Masonic affairs, holding the office of Worshipful Master of Ceremonies in one of the bay city's largest lodges.

False Alarm Brings Fire Fighters Fast

The fire siren on the city hall in Eagle Rock screeched forth yesterday afternoon at about 4:30. Some one had turned in an alarm that the Caddell Motor company building on Colorado boulevard was on fire, and clouds of black smoke were seen to rise from what happened to be the roof of the building.

Late afternoon shoppers left the stores followed by most of the business men and merchants.

The big fire truck roared out of the garage, turned the corner on two wheels and drew up alongside the big Caddell automobile establishment, and the firemen rushed in armed with hand extinguishers and other fighting apparatus.

Inside all was calm. Several customers were looking over the latest creation put out by Henry Ford, the bookkeeper was busy posting over her books, and out in the shop they were tearing "em" to pieces and putting "em" together again.

"Don't you know the place is on fire?" yelled the fire chief. "No"—they didn't know anything about it at all. There were hasty investigations and explanations, and it turned out that the big fire that had called out the entire fire fighting department of the city was some trash burning in the stove.

Apologies followed, and the fire ladders returned to their other duties.

Rehearse for 'Man From Mexico' Play

The next rehearsal of the chorus for "The Man from Mexico" will be Wednesday night, states Mrs. E. C. (Sally) Jones, who is directing the girls in the chorus at Eagle Rock.

Last night not only the chorus but the entire cast rehearsed, and it is said that this farce comedy that is being entirely rewritten by Judge Harold Ide Cruzan is going to be one of the best plays ever staged by the Eagle Rock Community players.

The date for its showing has not as yet been officially set, but it is understood that it will open for a two-day engagement sometime early in November.

Spanish architecture with all its embellishments will be a feature of the four flat brick and stucco building being erected at 131 West Cerritos street according to its architect, W. L. Sherwood. This building is being built for Mrs. Lydia Trimble of Los Angeles. It will cost $9500.

Wheelbarrows are not out of style yet even if automobiles are becoming more popular every day according to J. M. Wilson. He calls attention to several fine large "barrows" on the floor of the Wilson-Bell Hardware company at 1738 South San Fernando road. However, he admits that he prefers to take his family out in an automobile.

Lloyd Webster and Ralph Webster of the grocery department of the Gateway Market spent Sunday at the tri-beach.

Harold Barrett had charge of the Triangle filling station, 1700 South San Fernando road, Sunday while his father, A. F. Barrett and Miss Henrietta Kent of Los Angeles motored to the top of the ridge route. Later in the day they visited bouquet canyon.

"This is the roofing season," remarked T. B. Reavis in his paint store at 1539 South San Fernando road yesterday. "People seem to be getting anxious about their roofs now that the rainy season is coming. Quite a bit of roofing material is being sold now."

Hallowe'en will be a big night this year according to Mrs. C. L. Brenkman of 1504 South San Fernando road, who reports the sale of masks very brisk already.

"There are lots of inquiries for real estate in this section," remarked W. E. Head yesterday in his office at 1600 South San Fernando road. "There are quite a lot of sales down here. Business is very fair."

"Thirty rugs for an apartment house in San Pedro were delivered last night by the Russell-Pierce Furniture company of 1529 South San Fernando road."

All of the horses at the Griffith Park Riding Academy, 3220 Riverside drive are now being shod by J. A. Maich in his smithy at 413 West Los Feliz road. Four or five horses a day are being brought over for new shoes. Several have attracted attention because of their beauty.

PASADENA PEOPLE BUY IN GLENDALE

Southern Section of City Is Attracting Investors of Considerable Capital

Following the announcement in The Glendale Evening News Saturday that W. T. Jefferson, Pasadena capitalist, had purchased through Arthur Campbell, local realtor, the northwest corner of Los Feliz road and Central avenue from Wesley Bullis for $20,000, comes the rumor that other Pasadena men have acquired much property south of Glendale with the intention of establishing a southern business section. It is further rumored that plans are now in progress for the erection of a new theatre in that section of the city.

A recent story in a Pasadena paper says: "Colorado street in Pasadena is part of an old Indian trail from the desert to the sea. This trail crossed the arroyo between the hills at Colorado street bridge, then under other names passes through Eagle Rock until it connects with Los Feliz road and crosses the river at Griffith Park into Hollywood and from there to the sea."

"It is said that the Japanese who farmed the tracts in Los Feliz road between the railroad track and the Griffith Park bridge plowed up so much Indian pottery at what is now the corner of Los Feliz road and Edenhurst avenue that they were convinced it was the site of an Indian store or cross roads. Here only the organized effort to make this neighborhood a trading headquarters. A few days ago one of these Japanese vegetable dealers said he did a business at his stand of over $1800 in one day."

Plenty of Traffic "Some property in this neighborhood has been bought by Pasadena residents. Another site favored by Pasadena buyers is that part of Los Feliz road near the corner of Central avenue in Glendale, about three blocks east of the railroad tracks. A count of more than 12,000 cars a day was registered by the Automobile club some time ago, and now that Los Feliz road is to be widened and straightened at this point, the traffic there will make this the busiest corner in Glendale. The Pasadena men who are buying business frontage in this vicinity claim the widening of West Colorado street will affect values everywhere on Los Feliz road all the way to Hollywood. They point to the width of Los Feliz road near Griffith Park bridge as being responsible for this comparatively unimproved property. Where the street is wide, it is held at nearly double the price of property adjoining on the same street, but of narrow street width, though the property where the street narrows was improved and built on some years before the Japanese opened their first vegetable stands on the part of the street where Los Feliz road is of boulevard width."

Works Out Well "Whether residents of Glendale sections where the best property is held at $1200 a foot will agree that Los Feliz road where property is being sold at residential rates is to be the coming business center of Glendale is a question, they say, but they aver that following the old Indian trails as a method of defining values in real estate certainly has worked out so far in a very remarkable manner."

"Bobbie," 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Malch of 414 Fernando court, has been ill for several days.

Andy Peterson is now preparing to install a grocery department in his market at 444 West Los Feliz road.

The Robert Danner home at 1631 Gardena avenue was visited Sunday by friends from San Pedro including Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Martin and children, Kenneth, Martin, Lyle, Mrs. Genevieve Kent, Edward Danner and P. E. Gilmore of Taft. Yes, the meat for the dinner came from the Reliable market, at 1502 South San Fernando road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gabel of 1512½ South San Fernando road visited Tujunga canyon Sunday. They were accompanied by their two children, Ed and Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kokal have moved from 1531 South Central avenue to their bungalow on Delany drive. Mr. Kokal is employed at the Los Angeles Potteries.

Tujunga canyon was visited Sunday by J. B. Murphy and family of 1426 South San Fernando road, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Williams of Venice and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mears of Venice.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lingo of Taft have come to Glendale with their two children, Wallace and Douglas, to spend the winter and are located at 1529½ South San Fernando road.

May Arrest Two In Double Murder Case

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 17.—The arrest of a woman and a man in connection with the murder of Rev. Dr. Edward Hall, wealthy rector of the fashionable Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, and his beautiful choir leader, Mrs. James M. Mills, was expected hourly today. Both the man and woman in question have been mentioned from time to time in connection with the double murder. As a result of the new "drive" of Prosecuting Attorney Joseph E. Stricker, of Middlesex county, and Prosecuting Attorney A. M. Beekman of Somerset county, Supreme Court Justice Parker has postponed his decision upon the request to put State Attorney McCrain in charge of the investigation. It is now probable that Attorney-General McCrain will not be called into the case at all. The following new evidence has been unearthed and will furnish much of the ground upon which the proposed arrests are to be made: First—Discovery of love letters written by Dr. Hall to Mrs. Mills showing that he was infatuated with her; that he had been keeping love trysts with her and that he had proposed eloping with her. Second—Discovery of bloodstained handkerchiefs near

Girl's Pig Is First to Win Big Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Opposed by boy members of the state pig club from almost every county in Ohio, Gladys Kordell, a 14-year-old girl from a hill farm in Pike county, showed "Bessy," a Poland China sow, which she raised and had taken care of herself, and won the grand championship of the junior pig classes at the State fair here. Girls have always entered into the pig club work to some extent, but this is the first time a girl has ever shown the grand champion in this class. The spot on the Phillips farm where the two bodies were found laid out beneath a stunted crab apple tree—one of the handkerchiefs bearing a monogram, the letter "S." Third—Finding of a witness who saw a motionless automobile standing in Derussy lane on the night of September 14 when Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were shot to death. The witness who saw a woman looking over the old Phillips farm on the afternoon of September 14 has identified her from a photograph.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. —Advertisement.

The MUCKER

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Nor I, Miss Harding," agreed Theriere glibly. "The man deserves nothing but your contempt, though for policy's sake I hope that you will find it possible to lead him on until his very treachery proves the means of your salvation, for, believe me, if he has been false to you, how much more quickly will he be false to Simms and Ward! He would ditch them in a minute if the opportunity presented itself for him to win without their aid. I had thought it might be feasible to lead him into attempting to take the ship by force, and return you to San Francisco, or, better still, possibly, to the nearest civilized port."

"You might, with propriety suggest this to him, telling him that you believe that I would stand ready to assist in the undertaking. I can promise you the support of several of the men—quite a sufficient number with Divine and myself, easily to take the Half-moon away from her present officers."

"I will think over your suggestion, Mr. Theriere," replied Barbara, "and I thank you for the generous impulse that has prompted you to bend me—anyway knows how badly I need a friend now among so many enemies. What is it, Mr. Theriere? What is the matter?"

The officer had turned his eyes casually toward the southeast as the girl spoke, and just now he had given a sudden exclamation of surprise and alarm.

"That cloud, Miss Harding," he answered. "We're in for a bad blow, and it'll be on us in a minute," and with that he started forward on a run, calling back over his shoulder, "you'd better go below at once."

CHAPTER VII THE TYPHOON

The storm that struck the Half-moon took her entirely unaware. It had sprung, apparently out of a perfectly clear sky. Both the lookout and the man at the wheel were ready to take oath that they had scanned the horizon not a half-minute before Second Mate Theriere had come racing forward bellowing for all hands on deck and ordering a sailor below to report the menacing conditions to Captain Simms.

Before that officer reached the deck Theriere had the entire crew aloft taking in sail; but though they worked with the desperation of doomed men, they were only partially successful in their efforts.

The sky and sea had assumed a sickly yellowish color, except for the mighty black cloud that raced toward them, low over the water. The low moaning sound that had followed the first appearance of the storm, gave place to a sullen roar, and then, of a sudden, the thing struck the Half-moon, ripping her remaining canvas from her as if it had been wrought from tissue paper, and with the flying canvas, spars and cordage went the mainmast, snapping ten feet above the deck, and crashing over the starboard bow with a noise and jar that rose above the bellowing of the typhoon.

Fully half the crew of the Half-moon either went down with the falling rigging or were crushed by the crashing weight of the mast as it hurtled against the deck. Skipper Simms rushed back and forth screaming out curses that no one heeded, and orders that there was none to fill.

Theriere, on his own responsibility, looked to the hatches. Ward with a handful of men armed with axes attempted to clear away the wreckage, for the jagged butt of the fallen mast was dashing against the ship's side with such vicious blows that it seemed but a matter of seconds ere it would stave a hole in her.

With the utmost difficulty a sea anchor was rigged and tumbled over the Half-moon's pitching bow into the angry sea, that was rising to more startling proportions with each succeeding minute. This frail makeshift which at best could but keep the vessel's bow into the wind, saving her from instant engulfment in the sea's trough, seemed to Theriere but a sorry means of prolonging the agony of suspense preceding the inevitable end. That nothing could save them was the second officer's firm belief, nor was he alone in his conviction. Not only Simms and Ward, but every experienced sailor on the ship felt that the life of the Half-moon was now but a matter of hours, possibly minutes, while those of lesser experience were equally positive that each succeeding wave must mark the termination of the lives of the vessel and her company.

The deck, washed now almost continuously by hurrying tons of storm-driven seas, as one mountainous wave followed another the length of the ship, had become entirely impossible. With difficulty the men were attempting to get below between waves. All semblance of discipline had vanished. For the most part they were a pack of howling, cursing, terror-stricken beasts, fighting at the hatches with those who would have held them closed against the danger of each new assault of the sea.

Ward and Skipper Simms had been among the first to seek the precarious safety below deck. Theriere alone of the officers had remained on duty until the last, and now he was exerting his every faculty in the effort to save as many of the men as possible without losing the ship in the doing of it. Only between waves was the entrance to the main cabins negotiable, while the forecastle had been abandoned entirely after it had with difficulty been replaced following the retreat of three of the crew to that part of the ship.

The mucker stood beside Theriere as the latter beat back the men when the seas threatened. It was the man's first experience of the kind. "Never had he faced death in the courage-blighting form which the grim harvester assumes when he calls unbridled Nature to do his ghastly bidding. The mucker saw the rough, brawling bulges of the forecastle reduced to white-faced, gibbering cowards, clawing and fighting to climb over one another toward the lesser danger of the cabins, while the mate fought them off, except as he found it expedient to let them pass; he alone cool and fearless."

Byrne stood as one apart from the dangers and hysteric strivings of his fellows. Once when Theriere happened to glance in his direction the Frenchman mentally ascribed the mucker's seeming lethargy to the paralysis of abject cowardice. "The fellow is in a blue funk," thought the second mate; "I did not misjudge him—like all his kind he is a coward at heart."

Then a great wave came, following unexpectedly close upon the heels of a lesser one. It took Theriere off his guard, threw him down and hurled him roughly across the deck, landing him in the scuppers, bleeding and stunned. The next wave would carry him overboard.

Released from surveillance the balance of the crew pushed and fought their way into the cabin—only the mucker remained without, staring first at the prostrate form of the mate and then at the open hatch. Had one been watching him he might reasonably have thought that the man's mind was in a muddle of confused thoughts and fears; but such was far from the case. Billy was waiting to see if the mate would revive sufficiently to return across the deck before the next wave swept the ship. It was very interesting—he wondered what odds O'Leary would have laid against the man.

In another moment the wave would come. Billy glanced at the open cabin hatch. That would never do—the cabin would be flooded with tons of water should the next wave find the hatch open. Billy closed it. Then he looked again toward Theriere. The man was just recovering consciousness—and the wave was coming.

Something stirred within Billy. It gripped him and made him act quickly as though by instinct to do something that no one, Billy himself least of all, would have suspected that the Grand Avenue mucker would have been capable of.

Across the deck Theriere was dragging himself painfully to his hands and knees, as though to attempt the impossible feat of crawling back to the cabin hatch. The wave was almost upon him. In a moment it would engulf him, and then rush on across him to tear Theriere from the deck and hurl him beyond the ship into the tumbling, watery, chaos of the sea.

The mucker saw all this, and in the instant he launched himself toward the man for whom he had no use, whose kind he hated, reaching him as the great wave broke over them, crushing them to the deck, choking and blinding them.

For a moment they were buried in the swirling maelstrom, and then as the Half-moon rose again, shaking the watery enemy from her back, the two men were disclosed—Theriere half over the ship's side—the mucker clinging to him with one hand, the other clutching desperately at a huge cleat upon the gunwale.

Byrne dragged the mate to the deck, and then slowly and with infinite difficulty across it to the cabin hatch. Through it he pushed the man, tumbling after him and closing the aperture just as another wave swept across the Half-moon.

MEXICO MAY BE UNABLE TO ATTEND PAN-AMERICAN MEET

No Official Envoy In United States; Red Tape Would Bar Out Good 'Cash Customer'

By HARRY L. ROGERS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON.—Though a real cash customer of the Pan-American Union, official organization of the twenty-one republics of America, Mexico may be barred by red tape from participation in the forthcoming Pan-American Conference, which opens in Santiago, Chile, in March.

The governing board of the union today is confronted by a nice problem of international etiquette which bids fair to sound a false note in the general harmony thus far characterizing these international gatherings.

The difficulty arises from the fact that Mexico, while a member in good standing, cannot communicate officially with the union because she has no ambassador at Washington. The by-laws of the Pan-American Union provide that it shall function through the medium of a governing board, consisting of the diplomatic representatives in Washington of the twenty Latin-American republics, with the American secretary of state as ex-officio chairman.

Because the United States has not yet recognized the government of President Obregon, the Mexican government has no officially accredited representative in Washington, the embassy being in charge of Don Manuel C. Tellez, as charge d'affaires.

For some months the work of preparing the agenda for the Santiago conference has been going on, and many of the republics already have submitted suggestions concerning problems they want considered in the conference. Official invitations have been extended to all the other republics to submit these suggestions, but because of the existing by-laws no such invitation could be extended to Mexico, and the Mexican government has declined to participate unofficially.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

THE HOMECHARGER

Users of vacuum tubes often desire a battery charging device that can be charged from the house lighting facilities. The "homecharging" device illustrated herewith is self-polarizing. The battery may be connected either way and it will always charge. There is no danger of reverse charging, ruined battery or burnt out rectifier. This is an unusual feature and makes this device fool proof.

Another feature is, that operation stops and consumption of current ceases immediately upon disconnecting battery, which prevents damage to the charger should leads become shorted. Another good feature is that it gives the battery a taper charge, which is always recommended by battery manufacturers.

RADIO EXPLAINED

INSULATING MATERIALS

The importance of good conductors in electrical work, and especially in radio where high frequencies and high potentials are customarily used, has been shown in the preceding articles. It is, however, equally important to have nonconducting or insulating materials in order that electric currents may be confined to well-defined and limited paths.

Such materials are commonly called insulators, and when used in conjunction with condensers, dielectrics. In order to prevent the current from escaping along any bypath before the desired terminal point is reached, it is a familiar fact that electric wires are covered with layers of cotton, silk, rubber and other non-conducting compounds, and are supported on porcelain knobs in clay tubes. Most insulating substances show a decrease in volume with increased temperature. These changes are irregular and sometimes rapid. They are not directly proportioned to the changes in temperature. Humidity is of great influence, and tends to lower the volume resistivity in such materials as slate, marble, bakelite and hard fiber.

Very frequently surface leakage is of greater importance than volume conduction, and this surface leakage is largely dependent upon the moisture more readily than others. In any event care must be taken to insure that its effects are either eliminated or allowed for.

Book Reviews

The Century History company of New York announces the publication of a three-volume "History of the Pilgrims and Puritans," by Joseph Dilaway Sawyer of Boston.

The book is described as the most ample and convincing account yet written of the founders of New England and their forebears. The three volumes comprise more than 1300 pages and contain 1700 illustrations.

"Jürgen," James Branch Cabell's famous and ill-fated romance, is soon to become accessible to readers of French and German. A French translation by Raoul de Roussy de Sales has just been completed and will shortly appear in France as one of the editions of la Sirene. It will be followed by a French translation of Mr. Cabell's volume of essays, "Beyond Life," and, eventually, by a complete set of his novels and tales. The German translation, which will appear in the spring of 1923, under the imprint of Georg Muller Verlag, is the work of Dr. Franz Blei, who is also undertaking the German translation of Mr. Cabell's novel, "The Cream of the Jest," for the same publishers.

Louise Jordan Miln's new novel, "The Green Goddess," deals with the experiences of three English people, two men and a woman, in a remote Himalayan principality governed by an Oxford-bred rajah but dominated by the terrible Green Goddess. It is based on the melodrama of the same name in which George Arliss recently scored a great success.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RUB DUB

When Uncle Wiggily was about to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow one morning, he heard a gentle little voice calling to him and saying:

"Uncle Wiggily, could you please wait a minute?"

The voice was so wee-like and gentle that the bunny uncle knew it couldn't be the Wolf or Fox. So, taking off his tall silk hat, and making a low and polite bow with his pink, twinkling nose, Uncle Wiggily answered:

"Of course I can wait a minute, or even a minute and a half if I need be, Squeakie-Eekie!"

For it was Squeakie-Eekie, the cousin mouse, who had spoken. "Are you going adventuring, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Squeakie-Eekie, switching her little tail to and fro.

"Yes, I hope to have a jolly adventure today," the bunny answered.

"Then," went on the cousin mouse, "will you please—"

Uncle Wiggily held up a paw like a traffic policeman, though Squeakie-Eekie wasn't even talking too fast.

Excuse me, Squeakie-Eekie," spoke Uncle Wiggily, "and allow me to beg your pardon for interrupting you, but I couldn't possibly take you adventuring with me. I am in a hurry and with your little legs you can't run very fast."

"Oh, I wasn't thinking of asking you to let me go adventuring with you, Uncle Wiggily!" quickly said the little cousin mouse. "All I was going to ask was that you would bring me back a Rub Dub."

"A Rub Dub?" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "What in the world is a Rub Dub?"

"It's the thing that you beat a drum with," explained Squeakie-Eekie. "The drum goes Rub-dub-dub when you beat it with a long red thing, like a stocking darning on the end of a stick."

"Oh, now I know what you mean," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "It's a bunch of red sumach berries on their stem! Yes, the sumach in fall does look like a Rub Dub drumstick. Very well, Squeakie-Eekie, I'll bring you a Rub Dub. Are you going to play soldier?"

"If Jillie and Jollie will let me," shyly said the cousin mouse. "I have made a drum from a little old tin pan, but I have no stick to beat it. So please bring me a Rub Dub."

"I will!" promised Uncle Wiggily as he hopped away, and he made up his mind that the sumach drum stick would need to be a rather small one, for the cousin mouse was not very big.

Uncle Wiggily hopped on and on, over the fields and through the woods. Here and there some brightly colored leaves, touched by the chilly fingers of Jack Frost, were still clinging to the trees. And on the edges of the hillsides were growing the sumach bushes with their clusters of red leaves and the bunches of seeds, of the same red hue, were sticking up almost like the stick with which the drummer beats his big, bass drum in the parade.

Uncle Wiggily looked at a number of Rub Dubs, as Squeakie-Eekie had called them, but most of the sumach clusters were too large for the little mouse girl.

At last, however, Uncle Wiggily found a red cluster that was just right.

"This ought to do for Squeakie!" said the bunny. He reached up as high as he could, standing on his hind legs, and when a rabbit does this he is quite tall. Then with his front teeth, just made for gnawing, Uncle Wiggily gnawed through the stem so that the red sumach fell to the ground.

The bunny gentleman picked it up and made believe to beat a drum with it. Of course the Rub Dub was rather small for him.

"But it will be just right for Squeakie-Eekie," thought Uncle Wiggily. He was about to hop back to the path, which he had

Expediting the Action

A noise like a corn shucker getting ready for the fray was proceeding from the room next the one occupied by the new boarder, who dashed out and demanded of an old-timer in the establishment:

"Great guns! What's that fellow in there trying to do? Sounds like a couple of rivet drivers having a tournament."

"Why," the other answered, "that's nothing. The poor fellow has insomnia and the doctor told him to count to a million after retiring."

"Don't sound like counting. Sounds more like—"

"Oh, he bought an adding machine. He's in bed turning the crank."

A Sensitive Sole

It was at the end of an imperfect hike, in which the colored outfit had trooped to Gehenna and back. One of the bucks, footsore and otherwise sore, meandered on blistered feet around to the supply sergeant's office:

"Sarge," he demanded, "Ah wants a pair o' new shoes."

"Whattsermatter dem yo' got on?" said the sergeant. "Pears lak de plenty good enough."

"On top dey ain' so wuss," admitted the private, "but dem soles is worn so thin Ak kin stan' on a dime and tell whether she reads heads or tails."

Desserts that are Dainty and Healthful

There isn't a day in all the year when dainty, frozen desserts won't appeal to all the family—especially the kiddies.

And there's no other dessert so nutritious, so easily digested—and so delicious. Also, you'll find they're more economical than rich, heavy desserts.

You'll add to both the health and pleasure of your family if you keep your ice-box filled all the year round. The little it costs you will be many times repaid in the expensive foods you save.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

LISTENING WITH OUR EYES

"I hate directions."

A woman who has recently bought a washing machine uttered the above remark.

She had expected the agent who sold the machine to come out and explain to her how to use it, but for some reason he had been prevented and she was trying to understand it from the directions.

Rather than think "I do wish there was someone here to tell me about it," she said petulantly, "I think I'd rather do my washing in the old-fashioned way than study this out any more." And she flung the book from her.

What a familiar attitude that is. There are a great many people who hate directions. Why? Simply because directions demand mental co-operation of us in order that they shall be absorbed and understood.

And we don't want to give it. "Thinking," says someone, "is what no one wishes to do." A truer word was never spoken.

Exhausted From Three Hours' Thinking

Nobody likes to think. Really think, I mean, in the sense of keeping one's mind concentrated on some given subject, summoning all one's powers of comprehension and judgment, and thinking straight through to some satisfactory conclusion without flinching away from the mental effort involved.

I know a man who only has to work three or four hours a day to earn an excellent living. Many people envy him. "What a snap he has," they say. Yet I have seen that man come in from two or three hours with his typewriter drenched with perspiration from the effort he had been making. He would often be more tired than he was when he used to do ten hours' work in a busy newspaper office. Why? Because he had been doing what no one wishes to do—concentrating.

To return to the main road, that's why we have the instinct to turn away from directions—because we have to think to understand them. But what a childish thing it is to yield to that instinct! In these modern days our houses are filled with household appliances and special ingredients of various kinds for cooking, that we can get the full good out of only if we read all the directions, and read them intelligently.

Put In Upside Down

In the directions for putting together a household appliance which we bought recently, there was one paragraph printed in large type. It said that many people brought back the article and said it was defective and didn't work, and had to be shown that there was nothing the trouble except that they had read the directions carelessly (or not at all) and had put part of the paraphernalia in upside down. Think of the trouble that meant for both the buyers and sellers.

If you could have a talk with the man who had been manufacturing some articles for years about the way to get the most out of it and to make it last as long as possible, you would think yourself lucky wouldn't you, and would quote him to your neighbors? You can have just such a talk, if you will be willing to listen with your eyes instead of your ears.

Laddie Boy Has Rival at White House; Dog Is Presented to Harding by Noted Dancer

Miss Helen Hadakin & Gilda Gray

"Gilda Gray," named after famous dancer is presented in her behalf to President Harding.

Miss Helen Hadakin, secretary for Miss Gilda Gray, noted "shimmy" dancer, is shown with the little dog that she presented to President Harding, in behalf of the dancer. The newest addition to the White House canine family is named after the dancer and will vie for honors with "Laddie Boy," probably the most photographed dog in the world.

They Say That

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas gives this sound advice as to the care that should be exercised in the making of investments:

Among all the impressive evidence of American solidarity during the war, hardly any was more awakening than the subscriptions to the Liberty loans. The country had not suspected the potential capital fund of the American people. It was amazed by the response of the people to the appeals of the government for funds. And this astonishment grew as one great loan drive followed another in swift succession. There seemed to be no bottom to the popular purse, as there was no faltering in popular patriotism.

More than 21,000,000 subscribers offered nearly $7,000,000,000 for the government bonds. This was the culmination. The fifth loan was for a smaller amount, which was oversubscribed, like all its predecessors.

Here, out of the income of two years, a minimum of 21,000,000 persons had subscribed for some $2,000,000,000 billions of war loans.

Until this exhibit of the potential savings or capital fund of the people, the only concrete indication of this fund was the books of the savings banks, which prior to the war showed upwards of 11,000,000 depositors with balances of above $5,000,000,000. And it may be remarked incidentally here that three years after the war, notwithstanding the huge Liberty bond payments, savings deposits not only have not declined, but have increased by a billion dollars, with an increase net of 300,000 depositors.

Osteopaths Fighting for Measure No. 20

The osteopaths of Southern California, who have opened an intensive campaign for the passage of No. 20, the osteopathic act on the November ballot, are quoting Benjamin Rush, M. D., surgeon general of the Continental army, and one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, who gave this advice:

"To restrict the art of healing to one class of men and deny equal privileges to others will constitute the bastille of medical science. All such laws are un-American and despotic. They are vestiges of monarchy and have no place in a republic. The constitution of the republic should make special provision for medical freedom."

Dr. Harry W. Forbes, president of the California Osteopathic Association, says:

"Number twenty is an initiative brought by 80,000 citizens of California who believe in medical freedom and fair play. The one purpose of this act is to obtain for osteopaths the same fair administration of the existing examining and licensing laws that is now enjoyed by the medical doctors, dentists, optometrists and pharmacists. Each of these professions has its own licensing board. There is no desire to change the existing licensing law or the educational standards. The act provides only that the governor and a self-sustaining examining board of live licensed and practicing osteopaths to be selected by him shall carry out the provisions of this law for osteopathic physicians and surgeons."

"The medical examining board is not connected with the state board of health, and No. 20 does not change or nullify any rulings of that board, nor affect any narcotic law."

"The passage of No. 20 will save the taxpayers thousands of dollars by ending the twenty-eight years' constant court and legislative battles between osteopaths and medical doctors."

The effect produced by this extraordinary demonstration of the savings capacity of the people is seen in several organizations, governmental and private, since formed to promote savings and thrift by publicity propaganda. The treasury department conducts such a publicity campaign, the reserve banks also, and one or two private organizations, all urging the people to save.

While the government and other agencies are very active in endeavoring to induce people to save, it is evident that such a campaign is directed to the non-savers, and the only systematic campaign to help the savers to preserve their savings by judicious investment is a constant campaign in behalf of treasury notes, short-time investments.

Private institutions engaged in legitimate bond, mortgage and other investments should awake to the duty of educating the 21,000,000 savers of capital in the United States in caring for their capital, once saved. The people need a campaign of primary education on what capital is, and what investment is. They unthinkingly deny themselves luxuries in order to save, and billions of this saved capital, of incalculable value to the nation and all its industries, regularly are wasted in speculation.

The country should not permit the opportunity to slip by which the Liberty loan experience opens to it of adding yearly to the capital fund the great savings of the people. It is a large undertaking to get to the people the safety first idea, but worth whatever effort is necessary.

Frank Booth Writes About Tax Increase

Editor the Glendale Evening News:—Ere now every property owner in Glendale will have received their eye-opener, regarding this year's taxes. My taxes for the year 1922 are over $100 more than in 1921; in 1921 they were just double as in 1920 (this is all on the same piece of property); 1920 was double what it was in 1919. This will give the people an idea of the enhanced value of real estate and the reason for the present high rents. The property owner is the first to foot the expense, then it comes back on the renter.

Yours truly,
FRANK BOOTH,

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Keys to the Calories"

MOVABLE AND STONY KIDNEYS

Normally, the kidneys have very little motion because they are firmly fixed in a pad of normal fat behind the peritoneum—the covering of the intestines and the abdominal cavity. When the movement of the kidneys is increased beyond normal, they are known as movable kidneys; and when they are so freely movable that they push the peritoneum in front of them and circulate in the abdominal cavity, then they are known as floating or wandering kidneys.

Among the causes of this condition are tight lacing, faulty posture, relaxed abdominal walls and a loss of the kidney's normal cushion of fat. Occasionally an injury may play a part. In many cases there are no symptoms. Other times, there are derangements of digestion, local discomfort and nervous symptoms. Oftentimes there would be no symptoms did not the person know he had this condition.

If a kidney is a true floating kidney and it should turn over, twisting the ureter, then, of course, there is severe colicky pain, nausea, and scanty urination because the urine cannot escape to the bladder. If it is not relieved a tumor of urine forms in the kidneys and the condition known as hydronephrosis develops. (Hydro—water, and nephro—kidney.)

There is seldom any danger from a movable kidney, so the authorities state. But if there are symptoms they may be obstinate. Occasionally for the floating kidney, an operation may have to be performed to fix it in place.

A snugly fitting abdominal binder, or a special corset put on while the patient is lying down, with the buttocks raised so that the kidneys are in place, gives a decided relief. In the true floating kidney, physicians prescribe a pad in connection with the binder or special corset.

If you have a movable kidney, those exercises that I gave you to improve the tone and strengthen the abdominal muscles can be practiced, if your physician approves, remembering the cautions I gave you to begin with a small number and increase very gradually.

Build up your general nutrition if you are undernourished so that the kidneys will have their normal pad of fat, and then you forget them. Send for our pamphlet on gaining weight if you haven't it.

Stone—While movable kidneys are more frequent in women—probably on account of child bearing and the resulting relaxed abdominal wall when proper care is not taken to keep it firm—stone in kidneys are more common in men.

While the mode of formation of renal-calculi is not fully understood, the immediate cause of stone is a urine over-saturated with the mineral matter, or changed in its composition so that its solvent power is lessened. This looks as though we might attribute the most of them to dietary imperfections, doesn't it? So that gives us hopes of preventing their forming.

Stones may be formed directly in the kidneys or in the pelvis of the kidneys—the dilated portion of the ureter attached to the inner side of the kidneys. They vary in size from tiny particles of grit to masses an inch or more in diameter. The minute ones are often called renal sand or gravel.

I shall have to tell you more about stones in the kidneys some other time. For now, just remember that if you are on a balanced diet, not eating meat in excess, nor drinking alcohol nor tea nor coffee in excess, drinking plenty of water between meals and not overeating, and if you are getting some good exercise, you are pretty sure not to get them.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Dinty—Freckles are the result of excessive iron in the blood, brought to the skin's surface by the sun's rays. The fact that you never had freckles prior to 28 merely means that you did not have a condition previous to that time that would cause freckles.

Our bodies are never the same as they were a year before, possibly not the same one day as the past one. That your hair has grown stronger and has more of a glint is possibly due to this iron which shows on the skin and has brightened and strengthened the hair. You can bleach off the freckles as fast as they show, but you cannot rid yourself of the tendency unless some chemical change takes place in your own system. This is not at all unlikely, since many a person has freckled for a few years and then ceased freckling.

Embarrassed—Olive oil will not darken your hair. If your black hair is turning red at the roots it shows your scalp is in need of attention. Massage it vigorously every day until the scalp is loose from the bones and the blood is circulating healthfully.

Belle—I am glad to hear of your success in reducing as a result of my diet chart. Your sister's skin will likely be clear of these pimples in a few years. This condition often occurs with either boys or girls of her age. The important thing is not to aggravate the condition by eating too many sweets or very rich foods; also never bruise the skin by picking the pimples; this causes scars that will take years to eradicate. Send a stamped addressed envelope for the bleaching formula.

Josephine—The fleshy knob on your nose can be somewhat reduced through massage. The application of vanishing cream would not help.

Tilly M. D.—I will be glad to mail you the formulas on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope. A girl of 15, height 5 feet 3 inches, will be normal weight at 110 pounds.

T. I. L.—You can purchase any book at the larger book stores. They will always order one for you if it is not included in their regular stock. You can also be advised on the selection of books if you ask such assistance.

Discouraged Lad—The preparations you mention do not remove hair permanently. Learn to brush your brows so these stray hairs will not disfigure. This may be done by brushing down the hairs that grow above the brow, and then brushing up such hairs as grow below the brow, after which bring all of them into an arched line by shaping them with your fingers. You may have to do this every day, but it will not be long before you have trained the hairs so they will stay in place without much attention.

M. E. M.—There is no way to make the lashes curl artificially. Subscriber—No amount of hair tonic will completely restore your hair if your general health is poor. The condition of the hair follows that of the system. This is especially true if there is any trouble with the nerves. But it is well to continue to cultivate the hair all the while the general health is being improved.

Tomorrow—Being Lazy.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

More In Jail Than Schools, Is Charge

ARKON, Ohio.—Declaration that there are more Americans in jails than in schools was made by Professor O. E. Olin of Akron university, addressing the Rotary club here on "Poverty and Crime."

"Poverty is a matter of maladjustment. Crime is misdirected energy," said Professor Olin. "A well-to-do society must care for the weaker and more hopeless members of the world."

"There are 10,000,000 Americans who are poverty stricken and 40,000,000 Americans who are within $200 a year of poverty."

"In order to prevent propagation it is necessary to segregate the weaker-minded classes," Professor Olin declared.

Promises may get friends, but it is performance that must keep them.—Feltham

The test of business vitality is in performance, not in promises. If this were not so, anyone could attain success without effort, simply by setting up an imposing sign or publishing impressive promises of fair dealing.

SOUR MILK GRIDDLE CAKES AND WAFFLES

With the approach of colder weather, we hear the pleadings for the good old-fashioned griddle cakes and waffles.

The dispute into which griddle cakes have fallen in the last few years is due to the old-fashioned cooks using a great deal of fat in cooking them—filling the house with smoke, to say nothing of leaving indigestion in their wake.

If the griddle cakes are carefully made and baked on an ungreased (or at most a very lightly greased) griddle, and eaten with not too much syrup or other sweet, they are easily digested by the average person.

An aluminum griddle needs no greasing—in fact, it should never be greased, and it, therefore, is the preferred griddle. A cast iron griddle needs but the slightest suggestion of greasing, and this may best be accomplished by putting a small piece of suet or salt pork in a clean cloth and rubbing the griddle over lightly with it. If melted fat (butter or other cooking fat) is added to the batter the cakes will not stick to an ungreased griddle and this is the better method.

Tobacco stained teeth

Good news for smokers! It is no longer necessary to visit a dentist to have tobacco stains removed from your teeth by grinding and polishing. With a bottle of the wonderful new lemon juice dentifrice, DENTOMEL, you can clean and whiten tobacco stained teeth in your own home, simply by brushing them twice daily.

DENTOMEL

Removes All Discolorations

without the slightest injury to the enamel or irritation of the gums. Instead, it hardens the gums, sets loose teeth firmly and keeps the teeth beautifully white, and your mouth clean and wholesome. BALL TEAMS HOLD BENEFIT CONTEST

Los Angeles and Vernon Will Clash; Proceeds Go to Widows and Children

Now that the excitement of the Coast league race is over the fans and fanettes of southern California will this afternoon be permitted to witness a ball game that will not be marked with the usual nervousness and uncertainty that accompanies players when in the heat of a pennant fight. The Los Angeles and Vernon teams of the Coast circuit will face each other in a regular nine-inning contest, the entire proceeds of which will be turned over to the widows, children and other dependents of the miners who lost their lives in the recent Argonaut disaster. Presidents Patrick and Maier of the two clubs readily accede to the plan recently forwarded by President Lane of the Salt Lake team whereby a benefit game should be staged in the southern metropolis, and it has been announced that every penny which is taken in will go toward the cause.

Prior to the game the spectators will be furnished with a number of feature events, which have been arranged by the management of the two clubs. Among the attractions will be a comedy baseball game between Carl Sawyer's clowns and the Fox Film company; football "as it should be played" by southern California gridiron stars, a wrestling match with Bull Montana and Kalla Pasha as the principals and several individual contests between the members of the two teams. The latter will include fungo hitting, throwing to the bases, long-distance throwing, base running and sprint races.

Regular Coast league prices will prevail at the affair, which will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Willie Ritchie Out Of Lightweight Class

The latest "has been" among the country's former leading ring artists, as was announced several days ago is none other than Willie Ritchie, erstwhile lightweight champion of the world and one of the cleanest fighters in American ring history. The word "has been" is certainly a misnomer when it's applied to Ritchie, who has never "gone back" as is usually the case with ex-champions. Rather, his is a case of coming out of retirement, as he has never appeared in an important battle since losing the title to Benny Leonard.

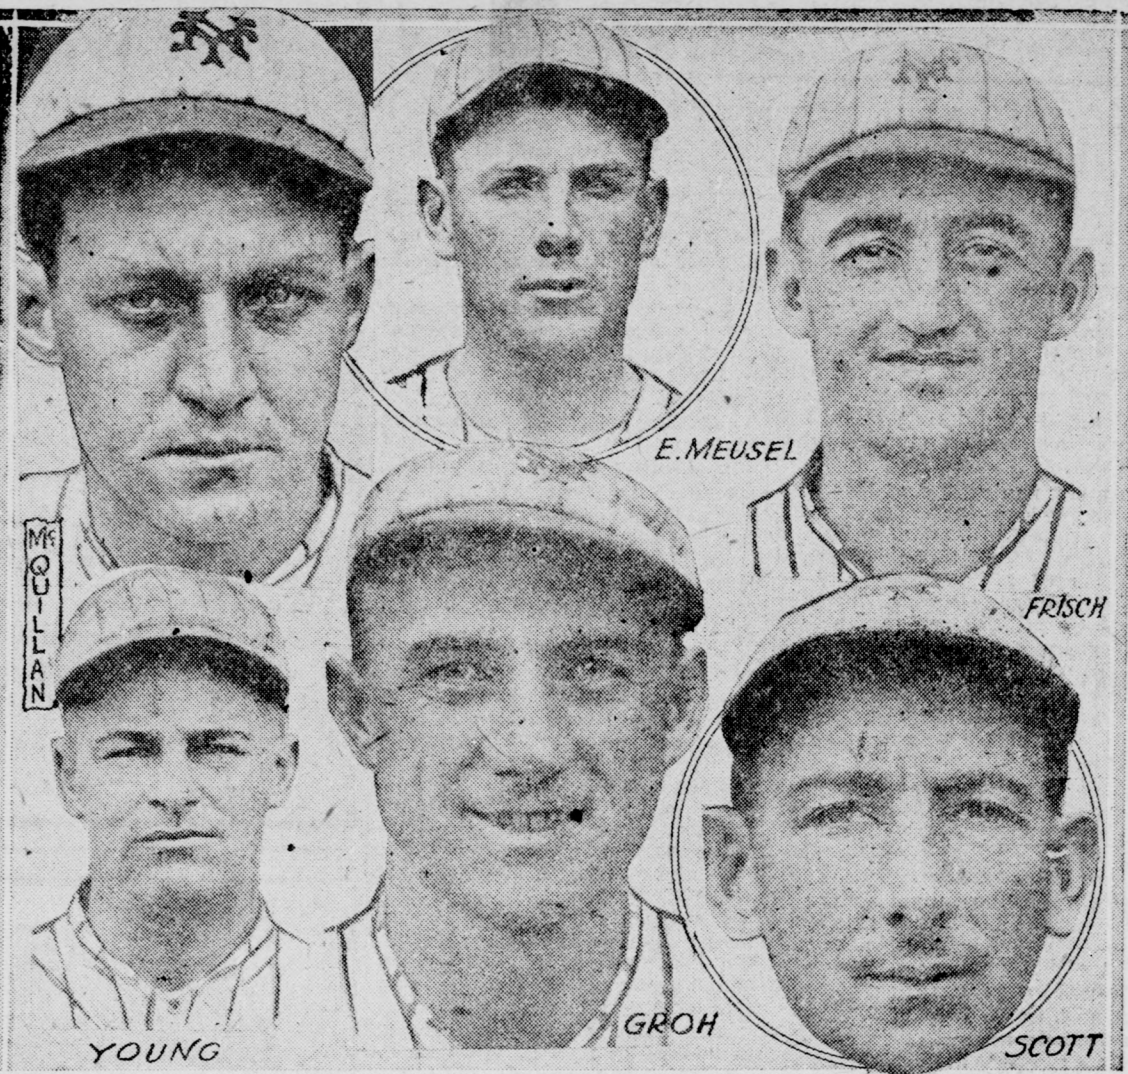

At present Willie is 31 years old and tips the beam in the neighborhood of the 150-pound mark, clothes and all. This would intimate that he is in good condition, as his best fighting weight was always nearer 140 pounds than the lightweight limit. It is more than likely that the popular little slugger will never even attempt to again train down to a weight which would place him in his former class, but instead will adjust himself to a welter.

King George Host at Castle Movies

BALMORAL.—King George has been the host at a number of "movie" shows recently at Balmoral Castle. The "palace" and the hostlers and all of the castle staff have been invited in to see motion pictures in the castle ball room.

If you suspect a man, do not employ him; if you employ him, do not suspect him.

Giants' High Lights of the 1922 World's Series

McQuillan pitched fine ball in the fourth game of the series and won from Mays, 4 to 3. Scott pitched a remarkable shut out game, winning the second game 3 to 0. E. Meusel was conspicuous because he batted in nearly all the runs scored by the Giants. Groh has been the batting and fielding star of the series. His batting average is about .600. Frisch has been a star both on the offensive and the defensive, and has hit almost .500. Many of these hits have been very timely. Young has been doing some great batting and also made the greatest catch of the series. Some say it was the greatest catch made in any world's series.

Basketball Season Now Being Launched

That the 1922-1923 basketball season in southern California will be on a par with the success of any prior season's play is indicated in the fact that the athletic authorities of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. have already begun active practice. The "Y" always turns out squads in the various divisions which are among the leaders in the A. A. U. branch and, according to advance dope, this year will be no exception. Regular practice in the casaba tossing pastime is conducted every Friday night in the downtown gymnasium.

Fireman Groom Has Busy Time on Duty

MANSFIELD, Ohio.—Fred Troll, a city fireman stationed at No. 1 engine house here, returned from a wedding trip lasting several days.

Then—
The boys at No. 1 engine house handcuffed Troll, shackled his ankles, wound a one-inch rope around him, made him wear blue spectacles and a diaphanous cap, placed a tin cup in his hands and compelled him to essay the role of a street beggar, while they took snapshot pictures of him and the cards which they placed around him.

As the coins, contributed by passersby, fell into the tin cup, the firemen took the money away from Troll.

One placard announced Troll's wedding. Another that he needed money to buy a baby buggy and a bird cage. The public, seemingly, derived the greatest amusement from a card which announced, "My personal liberty is shot!"

Best Showing For Yank Made By These Players

Shawkey pitched the best game of any Yankee slinger in the second game of the series, against Jess Barnes. This game resulted in a 3 to 3 tie score. Ward has made two home runs. The only ones made by his team. Meusel has been the leading Yankee hitter. Dugan has been the fielding star of the Yankees. Shang has caught every game and has been hitting well. Bush pitched a fine game against the Giants in the opening battle until the eighth inning when he weakened and lost.

Austrian Priest Is New Prime Minister

VIENNA.—The new prime minister of Austria and the first regulation premier since the revolution of 1919, is a priest, Dr. Ignatz Seipel.

Dr. Seipel, who belongs to the old school of Austrian politics, first became eminent in state affairs in 1916 and 1917, when he was a great favorite of the Emperor. At that time, prior to the revolution, he was minister of education, a not unusual post for a papal prelate in Catholic countries. (The Hungarian minister for education is also a priest, Dr. Voss).

Dr. Seipel began life as a practicing priest in Vienna, became a professor of religion in Salzburg, and later a lecturer on theology in the University of Vienna. Then came his court connection, which ended the fall of the monarchy under the Socialist revolution in 1919. However, the same year he was elected to the national assembly, where he became prominent as an opponent to the social democrats.

He is said to be the first priest to head a government since one was prime minister of Holland a hundred years ago.

The World Over By FRANKLIN B. MORSE PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Should a former varsity football player on a club team participate in a game against his alma mater?

This is a question of ethics that is agitating the Pacific coast and the pros and cons are being threshed out in the newspapers. It all came about by reason of the fact that Patrick, a former Stanford University player, playing with the Olympic club team of San Francisco recently had much to do in defeating the university team of which he formerly was a prominent member.

The question is one which every player, it would seem, necessarily would have to settle with himself. To the rank outsider it would seem that a man who had done his best to raise the prestige of his university during his playing days, and who gratuitously gave his advice after leaving college to aid in maintaining the supremacy, would hardly feel disposed deliberately to aid in its downfall.

Football players of a couple of decades ago will remember that teams such as those maintained by the Crescent Athletic club of Brooklyn, and the Elizabeth Athletic club of New Jersey, recruited many former university players. In those days the Manhattan Athletic club of New York also had a

SPORTS CHATTER By BILL UNMACK PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Now that Angelo Firpo has knocked out Jim Tracy in the former's own home town of Buenos Ayres, we presume has added considerably to his fame and prestige as champion heavyweight of South America. Yes, and he knocked out a champion. That is, if you take Jim Tracy's word for it that he is the Australian heavyweight title holder. There are more self-styled champions in the world today than ever.

Firpo and Siki are hardly names that appeal to boxing fans, but what's in a name? Jack Dempsey could probably bowl both Firpo and Siki over in the one ring, but it is hardly likely either would agree to meet Dempsey that way. Siki has made the modest demand of $100,000 for a match with Dempsey, but to date Firpo has not mentioned any stipulated sum. However, with his latest "success" it is possible Firpo will be heard from soon. Why not let Firpo and Siki get together and see which should meet Dempsey?

Mid-winter polo and golf are events that can only be programmed in such sections as Florida and California. The first announcement of these activities has just come from Coronado in southern California. The polo season will begin at the Coronado Country Club on January 1st and will run continuously until February 15. During that period teams from various sections of the country will participate with the possibility of one of the best New York teams making the trip to the Pacific coast for the events.

There is a movement on among the polo players of Coronado to form a polo circuit and after the games at Coronado the various teams will go to Riverside, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Mateo. Each of these places has its own team and with the visiting New York, possibly Denver, and Honolulu teams a great circuit is expected.

In the matter of golf New Year's day will also see the start of various tournaments at Coronado Beach. The annual golf championship of the Coronado Country club has been scheduled to be played February 19 to 23 for men and from February 25 to March 3 for women.

While Babe Ruth failed to be the leading home run swatter in actual figures he was, nevertheless, on account of his late start, just as prolific as any of the swatters. However, Ruth is not the batsman this year he was last year. His percentage is far below that of his last year's standard while his batting in the world series just concluded was not what one would expect of him.

Ruth looks as though he has seen his best day. Just what next season has in store for him remains to be seen, but if he has another season like the one just concluded it would not be surprising to find him at the end of his major league career this time next year.

LIGHTWEIGHT TEAM WILL MEET COVINA

Central League Contest to Be Staged Today; Big Team Plays Friday

After more than a month's practice, the regular Central League race will start with a bang here this afternoon, when Coach Butterfield's lightweight aspirants meet the strong Covina aggregation of the same weight. The lightweight games always proceed the regular varsity tilts, the latter coming on the following Friday.

With a team even more powerful than last year's pennant winners, they should have little trouble in repeating the trick. Only two regulars were lost from last season's team, these being Joe McKee, at right end, and Masaru Horii, the latter having risen to the rank of first-string quarter for the heavies. These two vacancies are being filled by Neil McIvor and Richard Kelsey.

Judging from the dope, the game will probably be the hardest of the season. Covina, also, has several letter men back, and it will be remembered that it was this aggregation that nearly spilled the beans last year, the locals barely nosing them out by one point.

Expected to Shine
Willard Roberts, last year's captain, will probably do a great deal of the shining for the Dynamiters in the backfield, while Seales and Burns at tackle will let the world know just why they are on the line.

The probable lineup will be: Kelsey, LB; Burns, LT; Morrison, LG; Jeter, C; Johnson, RG; Seales, RT; McIvor, RE; G. Roberts, Q; W. Roberts, LH; Griffiths, RH; Shuler, F.

Boys Disappointed; Kept Out of Jail!

The Senior Group of the Glendale Hi-Y held its regular meeting last night in the First Methodist church. The boys were rather disappointed, as a trip had been arranged for them to go through the county jail, in Los Angeles. This was postponed until some later date.

Not to be outdone by other organizations, the group has undertaken to construct a garage for a worthy widow. The boys expect to start construction on Saturday morning, and be through by noon. This little act of kindness shows the real spirit of the group.

Arrangements were made for a week-end trip to the Santa Monica home of Livingston Thom, popular member, the trip to start with the completion of the garage. About ten are planning on making the trip. They expect to return Sunday evening. G. Edwin Murphy, the group leader, and Mr. Butterfield, of the coaching staff of the local high school, are to be the "chaperones."

Needed the Practice
Ethel—Why did you insist on a civil wedding before the church ceremony?

Clara—Really, my dear, I thought it best to familiarize myself with court proceedings at the start.

man signs up with a club team should play through with it are men who have never been affiliated with any university or never have played on the team of the university which they attended. In this we think the answer lies and the real answer has been rendered by those who know and appreciate what it means to be an old football player.

The Sport Crucible By Davis J. Walsh International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—After due deliberation the New York state athletic commission has decided to release the purse for the recent Gibbons-Miske bout to its rightful owners, the principals in question. This is a tacit admission that the commission has found no evidence of chicanery in the unfortunate ending of the bout in the tenth round on alleged foul by Gibbons.

Very well, so be it. The affair quite possibly was fought on the plumb-bob. At any rate that is what the commission says and there is nothing in the evidence to prove otherwise.

But it seems to have become a habit with the worthy Mr. Muldoon and his assistants to see nothing suspicious in any fisty activities, however questionable they may appear.

In a personal interview with the writer after the Leonard-Britton bout, Muldoon announced that he considered the bout a remarkable display of skill and that Leonard fouled Britton because he (Leonard) lost his head. That was a rather unique statement in view of the fact that Leonard loses his head about as many times as a building loses its collar.

It is the Broadway sharpshooters and not the boxer, that Muldoon should run down when he feels that a little stranger has slipped into the deal. The commission might then be able to account for the fact that Joe Lynch, a 5 to 1 favorite over Jack Wolfe, was beaten in an inaudible whisper, why Bill Brennan stayed twelve rounds with Jack Dempsey when the odds said the champion was to knock Bill cross-eyed in five minutes and a few other fisty mysteries that have developed hereabouts.

One of the whispered scandals is that a prominent local boxer cannot lose at a certain New York club. It is the custom for fans to shout to his prospective victim: "Hey, stupid, you've got to knock this guy out if you want to win here," or words to that effect.

All of these things are suspicious in circumstances and they are leaving the sport in such disrepute that it would not be surprising if the boxing law is repealed in spite of Muldoon's denials.

Gamblers and financial jugglers ruined boxing before and they are in a fair way of doing that again.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Mary Ralph of 545 North Louise street has returned from a summer sojourn at Walla Walla, Wash.

Mrs. W. B. Davis of Aurora, Ill., has returned to Glendale for the winter and is at the Brandale apartments.

Mrs. W. B. Tompkins of 600 North Louise street is home from two weeks spent in central New Mexico.

Miss Blanche Davenport of 1243 South Glendale avenue has returned from a pleasant ten days' trip to the Grand Canyon.

Mrs. M. B. Burke of 333 West Palmer avenue and baby returned home last night from the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Glasscock and family of 360 West Elk avenue were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Benedict at Alhambra.

Mrs. T. B. Spears of Los Angeles and Charles Spears of Oakland were Sunday guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Spears of 718 East Acacia street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gaede of 324 West Cortez avenue enjoyed a motor trip over the Rio Grande on Sunday. They were also recent visitors at the Riverside fair.

R. F. Cullen of 520 North Maryland avenue, district passenger agent for the Los Angeles Steamship company, has returned from a week's business trip to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle B. Davis and Mrs. S. A. Davis of 118 West Colorado street were guests Sunday afternoon of Mrs. Merle Davis' father, R. A. Morley of Los Angeles.

Miss Sophia Brown of 609 North Louise street has returned from Kansas City, Mo., and has brought as winter guests her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Yaeger and daughter, Mary Jane.

H. L. Legrand, local Pacific Electric agent, is now on a vacation and will not resume his duties until October 27. During his absence Russell Moebius, recently of Chicago, is acting as relief agent.

Miss Geraldine Aust and Mrs. Ray Engle of South Louise street entertained the members of the Ro-Daire club and their friends at a marshmallow roast recently at Sunset canyon. The party enjoyed a hike to the top of the mountains.

Mrs. I. C. Doane of 610 South Verdugo road, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Walter and Mrs. E. Thompson of Burbank were visitors in Santa Monica Saturday and witnessed the big parade at the annual convention of the State Association of Elks being held there.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tummell and son, Charles Tummell, of 1504 South Brand boulevard are planning to leave Thursday for Oakland, Calif., where they will spend some time visiting Mrs. Tummell's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Abarta and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lampert of 318 Sinclair avenue returned Saturday from a two weeks' visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Christie, at Burlingame, California, and during which they also went to San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley.

Mrs. C. F. Couts of 419 West Palmer avenue entertained fourteen guests at a waffle breakfast Sunday morning in honor of her sister, Mrs. William Bishop of Fremont, Neb., who will leave the first of next week for her home. She has been a guest of the Couts home since the first of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight W. Stephenson of 327 West Cypress street have returned from an eight-day business and pleasure trip to San Francisco. Mr. Stephenson, who is worshipful master of Unity lodge No. 368 F. & A. M., attended the session of the grand lodge of the state of California at San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brown and their four children of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived in Glendale last week, where they expect to make their home. They are living temporarily at 224 North Belmont. Mr. Brown was formerly in the manufacturing business in Grand Rapids, his line being nozzles, sprinklers and other garden supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smythe of 306 East Windsor road are entertaining as their winter guest their aunt, Mrs. E. L. Lamb of Vermillion, Ill. The Smythes are planning a motor trip on Sunday to San Bernardino to visit Mrs. B. F. Finn. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. T. H. Ragsdale and Mrs. Adin A. Randall of Culver City.

Mrs. W. N. Stamps of 436 West Colorado street entertained with a dinner party at her home recently in honor of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Lund of Los Angeles, who have just returned from a four months' tour of the east. The other guests included Mrs. Stamps' brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. LeVal Lund of Los Angeles.

E. G. Bell, his mother, Mrs. C. E. Bell, and sister, Miss Lena Bell, arrived in Glendale a few days ago from their home in Grand View, Wash. They made the trip by auto, and report a fine two weeks' trip. Before leaving Washington, Mr. Bell was in the vulcanizing business. He expects to start a similar establishment either here or in Los Angeles in the near future. They are located temporarily at 116½ North Olive street.

Social Events

GUILD PLANS DINNER

The members of the Women's Guild of St. Mark's Episcopal church are planning to give a dinner and program Thursday evening, October 19, beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the guild hall of the church, Harvard and Louise streets. Mrs. B. O. Holbrook is chairman of the committee in charge.

Among those who will assist her are Mrs. H. Jenkins, Mrs. Gaurapp, Mrs. F. England, Mrs. A. C. Rowsey, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. F. S. Card, Miss E. Williams, Mrs. R. Humphries, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. A. Parker and Mrs. Ernest Parker. A very tempting menu has been planned by those in charge and the dinner will be followed by a musical program.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

A birthday surprise party was given to Mrs. Mary K. Smith yesterday at her new home at 500 North Adams street by a group of friends and former neighbors of hers from Jackson street. This was not only in the nature of a surprise party but also a housewarming. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Ada Roberts, both of whom are nurses, occupy their new home together.

Among the guests were Mrs. Ada Harter of 234 South Jackson street, Mrs. Denham of Pasadena, Mrs. F. J. Lever of Los Angeles, Mrs. S. B. Morse, Mrs. Mortimer Baker, Mrs. Willis Fuller, Mrs. C. A. Sparr, Mrs. Mary Fraser, Mrs. Krukow, Mrs. I. N. East, Mrs. Barbara East, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Roberts. During the afternoon refreshments were served. The house was decorated with a profusion of carnations, cosmos and marigolds.

GIVES HALLOWEEN DANCE

Mrs. F. W. Chambers of 736 South Glendale avenue entertained with a Halloween party and dance at her home Saturday night for her son, Sidney Chambers. Witches, cats and other Halloween motifs of decoration were used throughout the house.

Local News

AMATEUR DRAMATIC CLUB

An adult amateur dramatic club which was recently formed for community service work, with no fees or dues, has proven quite an attraction. However, the members find a need for two more men for juvenile and heavy leads. Men and women interested in dramatics, whether amateur or semi-professional, are invited to join this club and additional information may be secured from the secretary, Miss Dorothy Morton, 114 West Milford street. The permanent officers of the organization have not as yet been chosen.

TAKES PART IN PICTURE

Ester Ralston, a former student at Glendale Union High school, is now playing a character part in Rupert Hughes' notable picture, "Remembrance," at the Glendale Theatre. In the role of the selfish self-seeking daughter of an indulgent father, she has opportunity to prove her aptness in characterization and her brilliant versatility. Miss Ralston is, above all, natural. Her type of blonde beauty photographs perfectly.

DEPART FROM HOSPITAL

Baby boys have been taken home from the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital by Mrs. H. Lovejoy of 280 North Hertwick street, Eagle Rock. Mrs. E. W. Lovejoy, 1270 South Mariposa street, and Mrs. Stella Kenney of Lanker-shim.

STATE COMMANDER COMING

Judge William Harrison Waste of San Francisco, state commander of the Knights Templar, will be a visitor Monday night at the local Masonic hall, according to George U. Moyle, commander of the Glendale lodge. A banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a complimentary program.

ORDER OF THE TEMPLE

The Order of the Temple will be met on tonight at the Hollywood Masonic hall by officers of the local commandery of Knights Templar who will meet at the Glendale Masonic hall tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

MAKES REPORT OF THEFT

R. J. Harding of 1261 East Sycamore avenue, Eagle Rock, had two lenses and a bulb stolen from his automobile last night while it was parked in front of the Polka Dot Cafe at 708 East Broadway.

DOG KILLS PUPPIES, ADOPTS LITTLE PIGGIE

PITTSBURG.—All this talk about mother dogs being the very last word in faithfulness to their young received a severe jolt here when Rena, an Alsatian owned by Henry Curtis, deliberately crushed two of her four puppies to death and adopted a little pig in their place.

Twins Join Marines Hunting Adventure

CLEVELAND, O.—They didn't want to be separated, so Harold and Howard Michael, 18-year-old twins of Ashland, O., left arm in arm for Paris, France, S. C. They had joined the marines, and were on their way to track adventure to its lair together. "I've got to stay with Harold and look after him," said Howard with brotherly affection.

"COMMON CENT" Introduces Himself

"I am 'Common Cent'. I am just a tiny disk of copper, measuring only three-quarters of an inch across my middle. But mistake not to despise me for my littleness. I am a member of the family of 'Common Cents'. Alone I may seem quite feeble, but in company with my fellows I perform miracles for those who know best how to use me. Where'er you look upon me, think of what Franklin said: 'Take care of the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves.'"

Every man, woman or child has in his or her heart a cherished ambition.

To the lad it may be a hoped-for pair of skates, a bicycle, a radio set.

To the man, a motorcar, a business of his own, security in old age.

To the woman, a wanted bit of furniture, a home, university training for her children.

Of these ambitions seem well-nigh impossible of attainment—a mirage always luring on, but ever out of reach. But not to him who has learned the lesson. To you a dollar may seem poor in purchasing power, but in spare dollars laid aside is the achievement of your dreams.

We invite you today to start to turn your hazy ambitions into tangible, actual fact. A tiny sum deposited with us opens your account. A stated bit each week will make it grow and work for you, earning for you at 4 per cent interest; ever mounting up. Drop in and let's talk the matter over. Begin now.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS DECIDE TO HOLD NIGHT SESSIONS

Weekly Forum Meetings to Continue As at Present; Help Elks' Band

Directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will meet on Monday nights hereafter, it was decided at a meeting last night of that body. In the past the board meeting has been held just previous to weekly forum meetings. The forum will continue to be held on Tuesday noon.

At the meeting called by President V. M. Hollister last night, it was voted to appropriate $10 for each of the public concerts given by the Elks' band up to the first of December. At that time a new board will be elected, when it is probable that support will also be pledged. Support is being given the band by the city council and other Glendale organizations.

Riverside Meeting

Secretary James M. Rhoades and Assistant Secretary E. P. Sanders are to attend a meeting at Riverside tonight of the affiliated chamber of commerce organizations of the San Gabriel valley. About twenty organizations are to be represented at the meeting. It is probable that Mr. Sanders will speak on membership work, in response to a request made some time ago.

Reduction In Rates Ordered Suspended

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered suspended until February 14, 1924, certain scheduled proposals to reduce the rates of imported shipments of vegetable oils from Pacific coast ports to certain points in central freight association territory from $1.05 to 75 cents for 100 pounds.

TALKS FIVE LANGUAGES

New York City has a prodigy in Onofrio Delisi, 2½ years old, 2½ feet tall, almost as broad and full of words. He talks in five languages, English, German, Russian, Polish and Italian. When a pin sticks him he cries in all five at once and when his playmates tease him he hurls a section of each language at them. The strange thing is he cannot read or write. But he is sure he wants to be a city fireman.

STRENUOUS CELEBRATION

An aged couple from Grant City, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon B. Jennings, celebrated their golden wedding by climbing 555 feet to the top of the Washington Monument. "No elevators for me; they are not safe," said Mrs. Jennings. "I counted up to 700 steps and then quit. It is good exercise for women who wish to reduce." Mr. Jennings is a cousin of William Jennings Bryan.

Local Knights Have Annual Inspection

The annual inspection of the local commandery of Knights Templar was held last night in the Masonic hall.

A number of knights of high rank were visitors for the occasion including Charles Malcom of Long Beach, eminent grand generalissimo; William H. Thomas of Los Angeles, eminent grand prelate; Andrew J. Copp, Jr., of Los Angeles, department commander and eminent grand standard bearer; Aubrey Parks, inspector for this district; Alfred Williams, inspector of the Sixth district; John McGafferty and Charles Day, past grand commanders of Indiana; Henry Krohn and Warren Rowley, past commanders of the Los Angeles Commandery No. 9.

George U. Moyle is commander of the local commandery. It received a number of compliments upon the ritual exemplification.

Knights of Pythias to Hold Big Session

Tonight will be a banner night for Glendale Knights of Pythias, who have made their castle at the corner of Brand boulevard and Park avenue a beacon light for all Pythians for many years.

On this auspicious occasion the rank of Knight will be conferred by a specially picked team of Pythians, noted for their efficiency.

A special program has been arranged which will include Al Borak D. O. K. K. (Dokey) band and the D. O. K. K. patrol.

A large delegation will attend from Van Nuys, who have reported that they will be present with a company of their uniform rank.

Also a large delegation is reported to be in attendance of several of the Los Angeles lodges.

All visiting delegations will join the local lodge in a street parade, starting at 8 p. m. at the hall, and traveling through the business section of Glendale.

This will be a gala event and will be known among the Pythians as "Dokey" night. Lunch will be served in the banquet hall.

There are about 1000 Knights of Pythias residing in Glendale, many of whom are affiliated with the Glendale lodge, to whom this news will be of great interest and to whom the local lodge extends a special invitation.

It's the unexpected that happens, but don't bet on it. Life is full of uncertainties.

Use Peach Pits to Solve Fuel Problem

OAKDALE, Cal.—Oakdale fruit growers are solving the fuel problem for themselves regardless of the coal and railroad strikes. They are saving the peach stones from the drying peaches and intend to use them in place of coal this winter.

In the past, hundreds of tons of peach pits have gone to waste. Some of the farmers have discovered the stones will give as intense heat as the best coal.

NEW USE FOR RADIO
Fred Mueller, of Fort Worth, has solved an age old problem—how to attend religious services and go fishing at the same time on Sunday. He has equipped his fishing launch with a complete radio set and listens to a Sunday sermon as he fishes.

The Same Class
"You know, Henry, that a woman's mercy is like the gentle rain from heaven," said Mrs. Peckmoore.

"On the day set for the Sunday school picnic," agreed Mr. Peckmoore, making swift use of the pond wasn't there until it rained yesterday."

OUR BIGGEST AIRSHIP
An air dreadnaught, as big as a house, is being completed for the army. It has a wing spread of 127 feet, weighs 30,000 pounds and has a carrying capacity of ten tons. It is to be used as a bombing plane.

DANGEROUS COMBINATION
Cigarettes and celluloid collars make a dangerous combination. John Strode of Philadelphia, while lighting a cigarette set fire to his celluloid collar and was burned to death.

MAKES FINE ROAD
An experimental road in London that has withstood much wear is made of wooden blocks, coated with tar, covered with heavy tared felt and given a top layer of tar with a cement and sand surface.

BLAMES TEACHERS, TOO
America is in no danger of losing many school teachers to China. In that country theirs is a cruel fate. A man who commits murder is executed and along with him his school teacher for not having taught him better.

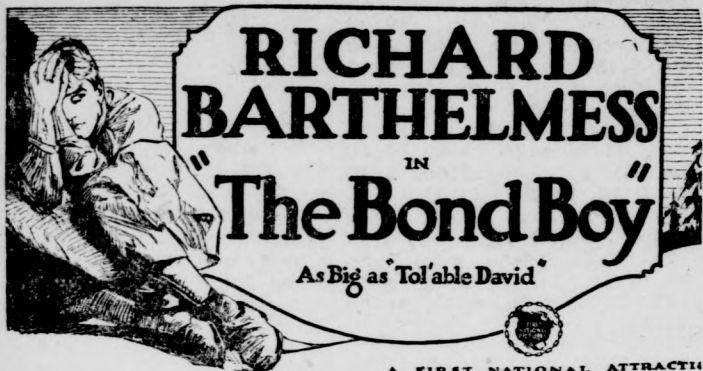

BUSINESS IN THE AIR
The 125 commercial airplane companies of the United States are using 1,200 different airships and covering 7 million miles a year, carrying 250,000 people.

URGES ACTION ON SCHOOL BUILDING

Mass Meeting Wants Union High Board to Start on Construction

then presented and adopted in regard to demanding that work be started with funds now available. The resolution as introduced by Mr. Grey and carried at the close of the meeting follows:

"Whereas, the voters of the Glendale Union high school district, on December 29, 1921, voted bonds in the amount of $85,000 to purchase a site for a Union high school, said bonds having been sold on April 21, of this year; and

"Whereas, a bond election was carried on May 22 of this year in the sum of $600,000 to erect buildings thereon, said bonds having been sold on the 19th day of August, 1922; and

"Whereas, it would appear that no action has been taken by the board of trustees of said high school district to contract for and have buildings erected as provided for by said bond issues; and

"Whereas, it has been stated by reliable architects that $600,000 would provide suitable buildings for from 1800 to 2000 students; and

"Whereas, all competent school authorities agree that 2000 students is the largest number that

Mrs. Leslie Tronsier Hostess to Meeting

The members of the executive board of the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. Mae Rosenberg is president, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leslie Tronsier, 350 West Maple avenue. Plans were discussed for a membership drive. The question of securing playground equipment for the school was also considered. The regular meeting of the association will take place at the school Thursday afternoon.

Spending money is the only thing that makes having it worth while.

may be efficiently taken care of in one building, having regard to the welfare of the students, as well as the teaching staff; and

"Whereas, the present high school facilities are greatly overtaxed and immediate relief is imperative, therefore be it

"Resolved, by the West Glendale Improvement association, in meeting assembled this 16th day of October, 1922, that,

"The high school board of trustees be requested to take steps immediately for the construction of such buildings as required by the above named bond issue without regard or reference to any further bond issues that may be contemplated;

"That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the board of education, the city council of the city of Glendale and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, urging their hearty co-operation."

MISSION SCHOOL TO BE CONDUCTED

Presbyterians to Start With Dinner Tomorrow; Teaching Staff Is Selected

The friends of the Presbyterian church of Glendale and the Presbyterians themselves are looking forward with much anticipation to the school of Missions which is to begin tomorrow night. H. L. Finlay will be the director of the school. The plans have been made under the supervision of Mrs. Dwight Smith.

Under Mr. Finlay's direction the school will be subdivided into five classes. These will be for men, women, young people, intermediates and children. The field which will be studied will be the same as is being studied in other churches over the country. India. The study books are "Building With India," and "India on the March." These books have been prepared with great care, by those who have spent many years in India, and are written in such a style that they are filled with interest from beginning to end, it is declared.

Begin With Dinner

The school will begin with a dinner served by the ladies at 6:30 o'clock. Those expecting to be present will notify Mrs. James Newton. The classes will meet from 7 until 7:40 o'clock. This will be followed by a fifteen-minute devotional period, after which the prayer meeting will be held from 8 to 9 o'clock. Those who are unable to attend the dinner are invited to attend the classes at 7 o'clock.

The leaders of the classes will be as follows: Mrs. Geo. H. Martin of Glendale, who has had many years' experience in the instruction and training of children, will have the children's department; Mrs. William B. Allison of Eagle Rock, who has for nineteen years been a missionary of the Presbyterian church in Guatemala, and has been much in demand for conferences and public addresses, will lead with the intermediate division; D. L. Foster, who has had much experience in Y. M. C. A. work and is now connected with the executive force of the Bible institute and is also the successful teacher of the dynamo class in Glendale, will be the leader of the young people's work; Mrs. J. Franklin Kelley, for eight years a missionary in India and for sixteen years a missionary in China, under the Presbyterian board, and who is now conducting work among the Chinese in Los Angeles, will have charge of the woman's class; W. A. Horn of Glendale, who was formerly assistant pastor of a large church in Oakland, and has spent many years in Y. M. C. A. work and is now in business in Glendale, will begin the work with the men's group.

Similar schools are being conducted in many of the large cities. Peculiarly interesting and timely in view of current events, is the study of India. The young people will be fascinated by the tales of adventure and stories of Indian heroes. For the other classes there will be keenly interesting studies of India's fundamental need in her changing restless life.

More Holidays for Postoffice Employees

Under the provision of an order issued yesterday by Postmaster General Work, postmasters throughout the United States are to be given authority in the immediate future to release postal workers from duty when total or partial suspension of business occurs in their community.

This will mean that Glendale postal employees will be able to observe many holidays that have been denied them, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. Confirmation of the announcement has not yet reached the local postmaster, but is expected soon, it is announced.

In the past it has been possible for the Glendale postoffice to observe but seven holidays during the year, although many times their fellow townsmen have celebrated local or state holidays. Under present regulations only national holidays are observed by the postoffice department.

SIGNED UP FOR YEAR

When "Cap" Parham was convicted for stealing a hog at Frankfort, Ky., the judge gave him 6 months in the county jail. Parham is a baseball player, and he asked the judge to send him to the penitentiary so he could play ball on the prison team. Being an accommodating official, the judge changed the sentence to a year and sent him to the pen.

Renewed Testimony

No one in Glendale who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Long Beach man's twicetold story. It is a renewed testimony that no resident of this locality can doubt.

Jas. Franks, 915 Dawson Ave., Long Beach, Cal., says: "Many years ago I had kidney trouble and I suffered with backache. At times my back was so lame and stiff I had to crawl around on my knees in order to stop the pain. The pains were sharp and shooting and darted through my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they proved most beneficial as they soon cured me of the trouble. I have had no return of it."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Franks said: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills is as good today as it was when I endorsed them some time ago. I gladly renew my former statement."

DR. CLYDE CRIST GETS PROMOTION

Local Pastor to Take Charge of San Diego District As Superintendent

lion dollars was pledged by the Methodist church about three years ago towards the support of the home and foreign field. This was divided among all the churches of this denomination in the United States. The quota of the First Methodist church of Glendale toward this "Century Fund" was fixed at $4200 a year. The first year this amount was oversubscribed by $900 and $5100 was raised. Last year even this record was exceeded and $5500 was subscribed.

The California area, which includes California, Arizona and Nevada, now leads all Methodism in its contribution to the Century fund per church member. The Southern California conference leads the area; the Pasadena district leads the conference and the First Methodist church of Glendale is one of the leading churches of the district.

Express Their Regret

Regret was expressed this morning at being obliged to leave Glendale by Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Crist.

"I never have been in a place in my life that I love as much as Glendale," remarked Dr. Crist. "I wish I could continue to reside here but it will be necessary for me to live in my new district. We have not decided yet just where we will locate. We expect to stay awhile in Los Angeles and may locate in Santa Ana."

"The three years that I have spent in Glendale have been three of the happiest of my ministry. They surely have been among the most fruitful, too. I will carry away with me the joy of true friendship."

Fifty churches are in the San Diego district. They are: Alamo, Anaheim, Banning, Brawley, Calexico, Cardiff, Encinitas, Chula Vista, Corona, Costa Mesa, Eastvale and Glenavon, El Centro, Elsinore, Escanto and Invoir, Escondido, Fullerton, Fallbrook, Garden Grove, Heber, Hemet, Highgrove, Holtville, Huntington Beach, Imperial, Indio, La Habra, La Mesa, Murillo and Wildomar, National City, Nestor, Imperial Beach, Oceanside, Olinia, Orange, Perris, Riverside, Santa Ana, San Diego, San Jacinto, San Marcos, Santa Fe Springs and Buena Park, Santee, Wintersburg and Yorba Linda.

Make Social Calls at 3 a. m. In Alaska

SEATTLE, Wash. — Returning here from Noorvik, Alaska, 150 miles within the Arctic circle, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Evans cannot accustom themselves to the fact that the sun goes down. Before leaving Noorvik they saw the sun the entire twenty-four hours for fourteen days, and for months it never grew dark.

It is not unusual for a person to make a social call up there at 3 o'clock in the morning, they reported.

It took Mr. and Mrs. Evans, who were employed in a government hospital at Noorvik, nearly two months and a half to make the trip from there to Seattle, as they traveled from a point 350 miles north of Nome.

Companions on Trip

They had only eight white companions at Noorvik. They didn't suffer, due to lack of society, however, for the Eskimos, under the tutelage of government schools, have rapidly assimilated modern customs. They have abandoned the use of igloos and are building cabins and otherwise adopting modern methods. Evans said that the Eskimo is kind to a marked degree and probably responds more readily to teaching than does any other protoge of the missionary. He said that the present schools and hospitals demonstrated the good to be accomplished among the far northern race, and also showed that the United States could increase its natural resources in the Arctic circle by the further extension of its institutions.

Prisoner In Kansas Is Without Friends

KANSAS CITY.—Amos Phillips, "hang prisoner" in the Kansas penitentiary, is the one man in that big institution that the world seems to have forgotten. Phillips has been in the prison since January 23, 1900, and in those twenty-two years not a single letter ever has been written the governor of Kansas seeking his release or the commutation of his sentence.

Phillips is now yardman at the prison. He never has been a "convict." He is 78 years old and most of his time is devoted to watching over the flowers in the big prison yard. Apparently he had no friends and no relatives interested in him, as he receives no mail and no effort ever has been made to get him out of the prison.

Phillips is one of the five "hang" men still in the Kansas prison. The legislature of 1907 abolished capital punishment. Previous to that time persons convicted of murder in the first degree were sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary and then to be hanged at the "pleasure of the governor." No governor has signed a death warrant in more than fifty years.

Phillips was convicted of complicity in the murder of an itinerant peddler in Bourbon county in the fall of 1899.

Another Baby Day VALUES

It takes but one visit to make Pendroy's Baby Shop a habit with the woman who knows. The pretty things she wants her baby to have, the necessities they must have, are here—but not until they have passed many a rigid test as to quality, utility and value. Not a single tiny garment is placed on our shelves until we are satisfied that no better can be had for the price. That's the secret of women's satisfaction in shopping at Pendroy's Baby Shop.
